Connecting Generations Hayim Herring,2019-05-08 Social isolation loneliness and suicide are conditions we often associate with the elderly But in reality these issues have sharply increased across younger generations Baby Boomers Gen X ers Millennials and post Millennials all report a declining number of friends and an increasing number of health issues associated with loneliness Even more concerning it appears that the younger the generation the greater the feelings of disconnection Regardless of age it feels as though we're living through a period of ongoing disequilibrium because we're not able to adapt quickly enough to the social and technological changes swirling around us These powerful changes have not only isolated individuals from their own peers but have contributed to becoming an age segregated society And yet we need fulfilling relationships with people our own age and across the generations to lead lives that are rich in meaning and purpose Even in those rare communities where young and old live near each other they lack organic settings that encourage intergenerational relationships In addition it isn't technology but generational diversity that is our best tool for navigating the changes that affect so many aspects of our lives whether it's work entertainment education or family dynamics We can't restore yesterday's model of community where only those who were older transmitted wisdom downward to the generation below But we can relearn how much members of different generations have to offer each other and recreate intergenerational communities for the 21st century where young old and everyone in between is equally valued for their perspectives and where each generation views itself as having a stake in the other s success Here Hayim Herring focuses more deeply on how Baby Boomers Gen Xers and Millennials perceive one another and looks underneath the generational labels that compound isolation He offers ways we can prepare current and future generations for a world in which ongoing interactions with people from multiple generations become the norm and re experience how enriching intergenerational relationships are personally and communally

ACTH Action in the Adrenal Cortex: From Molecular Biology to Pathophysiology Nicole Gallo-Payet,Antoine Martinez,André Lacroix,2017-07-27 By stimulating adrenal gland and corticosteroid synthesis the adrenocorticotrophic hormone ACTH plays a central role in response to stress In this Research Topic a particular attention has been given to the recent developments on adrenocortical zonation the growth promoting activities of ACTH the various steps involved in acute and chronic regulation of steroid secretion by ACTH including the effect of ACTH on circadian rhythms of glucocorticoid secretion The Research Topic also reviews progress and challenges surrounding the properties of ACTH binding to the MC2 receptor MC2R including the importance of melanocortin 2 receptor accessory protein MRAP in MC2R expression and function the various intracellular signaling cascades which involve not only protein kinase A the key mediator of ACTH action but also phosphatases phosphodiesterases ion channels and the cytoskeleton The importance of the proteins involved in the cell detoxification is also considered in particular the effect that ACTH has on protection against reactive oxygen species generated during steroidogenesis The impact of the cellular microenvironment including local production of ACTH is discussed both as an important factor in the maintenance of homeostasis but also in pathological situations such as severe inflammation Finally the Research Topic reviews the role that the pituitary adrenal axis may have in the development of metabolic disorders In addition to mutations or alterations of expression of genes encoding components of the steroidogenesis and signaling pathways chronic stress and sleep disturbance are both associated with hyperactivity of the adrenal gland A resulting effect is increased glucocorticoid secretion inducing food intake and weight gain which in turn leads to insulin and leptin resistance These aspects are described in detail in this Research Topic by key investigators in the field Many of the aspects addressed in this Research Topic still represent a stimulus for future studies their outcome aimed at providing evidence of the central position occupied by the adrenal cortex in many metabolic functions when its homeostasis is disrupted An in depth investigation of the mechanisms underlying these pathways will be invaluable in developing new therapeutic tools and strategies
