War in 1968 All he accomplished until then and all he would achieve later was put at risk A battle where you are almost killed can be a profound experience Reflecting on that traumatic event convinced him of two things First war is a terrible thing and we need to find a way to stop it in the future Second thinking about that dramatic and frightening battle instilled in him a determination to make his life count regarding his fellow citizens and his family So he built an engineering and surveying firm from scratch employing hundreds of people He served in elective offices and on community boards and commissions He and Candace raised a family of five kids who were well cared for materially and emotionally and all grew up to be happy and productive adults He made his life count That fight in Vietnam was not so much a major event in his life as it was a tipping point It refocused his life plan So marriage the birth of children business success and public service were the major event just like so many American men and women
