Cambridge Yearbook of European Legal Studies Vol 3, 2000 Alan Dashwood, J R Spencer, Angela Ward, Christophe Hillion, 2002-03-05. The contributions appearing in the collection are commissioned by the Centre for European Legal Studies (CELS), Cambridge. The papers presented are all at the cutting edge of the fields which they address and reflect the views of recognized experts drawn from the University, world legal practice and the civil services of both the EU and its Member States. Inclusion of the comparative dimension brings a fresh perspective to the study of European law and highlights the effects of globalization of the law more generally and the resulting cross-fertilization of norms and ideas that has occurred among previously sovereign and separate legal orders. The Cambridge Yearbook of European Legal Studies is an invaluable resource for those wishing to keep pace with legal developments in the fast-moving world of European integration.

and change     Judicial Lawmaking and Administrative Law ,2005 The book before carries a broad title In the Dutch literature the terms lawfinding and lawmaking are often used interchangeably From a legal point of view however it makes quite a difference to the position of the court whether lawfinding or lawmaking is meant Why write a book about lawmaking by the courts just in the area of administrative law In administrative law the administration is positioned between the legislature and the judiciary The courts review decisions taken by the administration in implementing the law however where the administration has often been granted a degree of discretion the courts assess the lawfulness of the decision The relation administration judiciary raises so many specific questions that it justifies a book on judicial lawmaking in administrative matters The authors are all members of the research program Public Law of the Ius Commune School     Regulation Inside Government Christopher Hood, Oliver James, George Jones, Colin Scott, Tony Travers, 1999-05-27 Regulation Inside Government analyses the army of inspectors auditors grievance chasers standard setters and other bodies overseeing contemporary public organizations Based on an unprecedented two year inside study of British government by a team of leading scholars this book provides an original analytical perspective on regulation within government The book begins by examining the size of internal government regulation to reveal a structure comparable in size to government regulation of business The book then goes on to show how internal government regulation grew in size despite the fact that public bureaucracy elsewhere were being sharply cutback Given the limitations of orthodox constitutional checks on executive government the courts and elected members of the legislature regulation inside government deserves more attention than it has hitherto received As one of the first comprehensive accounts of regulation inside government this book begins to fill the gap     The Changing Topography of EU Administration Didier Georgakakis, 2024-12-25 This book examines the ways in which the European Union's administrative structures have changed over the last decade in response to several significant political events including Brexit the refugee crisis and the Covid 19 pandemic Whilst much has been written about the responses to these events at both national and European level less attention has been given to the internal transformations they have brought about within the EU's institutions Multidisciplinary in approach the book brings together leading scholars to assess the ways in which key organizations such as the European Council the European Parliament and the European Central Bank have changed over the last ten years It also throws light on the impact these events have had on policy actors within the EU administrative system as well as its policy processes It will appeal to all those interested in European public administration political sociology European politics and EU studies     Prototypical Argumentative Patterns Frans H. van Eemeren, 2017-08-14 Prototypical Argumentative Patterns reports about a research project started at the University of Amsterdam in 2012 In this project distinctive argumentative patterns have been identified in argumentative discourse in the political the legal and the medical domain These patterns consist of constellations of argumentative moves in which in order to deal with a particular kind of difference of opinion in defence of a particular type of standpoint a particular argument scheme or combination of argument schemes is used in a particular kind of argumentation structure The composition of these prototypical argumentative patterns can be explained by referring to the institutional characteristics of the communicative activity types in which they occur By exploring the relationship between argumentative discourse and the institutional context Frans van Eemeren Bart Garssen Corina Andone Eveline Feteris and Francisca Snoeck Henkemans have provided a new and illuminating perspective on the context dependency of argumentative discourse
