Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Schools, 2005 The Annual Report of Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Schools Great Britain. Office for Standards in Education, Office for standards in education (GB), 2002 The remit of the Office for Standards in Education OFSTED is to improve standards of achievement and quality of education in England through regular independent inspection of schools public reporting and informed independent advice The annual report for 2000 01 considers current issues of importance contains the evidence from the year's inspections and identifies particularly successful schools Overall the report finds there are continuing improvements in the quality of teaching and in the leadership and management of schools The achievements of pupils with special educational needs are found to show improvements both in special and mainstream schools The problems in the recruitment and in particular the retention of teachers are noted The report highlights two key concerns regarding 1 the gap between the highest and lowest performing schools at secondary level 2 and the under achievement levels amongst certain groups of pupils including those from ethnic minorities children in care children from traveller communities as well as a significant number of missing pupils of whom very little is known The annual report of Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Schools Great Britain. Office for Standards in Education,1992 The Annual Report of Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Schools Part I Standards and Quality in Education ,1994 Her Majesty's Inspectorate of Schools Since 1944 John E. Dunford,2017-09-25 This history of HMI since World War II shows how its independence derives from the work of the 19th century inspectors and examines the relationship between HMI and school local education authorities and the government It considers the effect of the 1988 and 1992 Education Acts The Annual Report of Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Schools Part 2 Quality and Service in Inspection ,1995 Using IT in Primary School History Lez Smart,1996-01-11 The UK National Curriculum requires children to develop an IT capability through the different subject areas This book for non IT specialists aims to help humanities teachers use IT to enhance and facilitate children s learning The author considers how children s historical and geographical knowledge skills and understanding can be better developed through use of IT and how their IT capability can be developed in this context Watchdogs Or Visionaries? Ann Keane,2022-11-15 The book explains why and how schools and colleges in Wales have been inspected from 1839 to the present It offers insights into the history of education and education policy making and describes how the ethos of the inspectorate changed over time In the Victorian period many inspectors condemned the use of Welsh in the school curriculum but later became active promoters of the teaching of the Welsh language Welsh history and culture It analyses the value and impact of inspection in the context of accountability and school improvement This book critiques the debate about the future of inspection in Wales Teaching Music Musically Prof Keith Swanwick,Keith Swanwick,2002-01-31 Through practical examples Swanwick illustrates layers of musical experience and outlines key principles for music educators on musical teaching Chapter deal with the value culture assessment and the future of music education National Curriculum In The Early Years Dr Theo Cox,Theo Cox,2014-05-01 The child centred principles of early years education which emphasize play and holistic learning are being challenged by the implementation of a subject based National Curriculum The contributors to this book explore this challenge and offer some ways of meeting it practically and productively Issues covered include pedagogical issues such as the cross curricular topic based teaching teacher s attitudes to subject knowledge assessment issues including baseline assessment at the age of five and parental attitudes to the National Curriculum and its content at Key Stage 1 Leadership in Education Clive A. J. Dimmock,2011 The Leadership for Learning series explores the connections between educational leadership policy curriculum human resources and accountability Each book in the series approaches its subject matter through a three fold structure of process themes and impact Series Editors Clive Dimmock Mark Brundrett and Les Bell Leadership Capacity Building and School Improvement provides a fresh and original perspective on the most important issues confronting today's practitioners and academics in the field of educational leadership. New and exciting concepts are introduced such as the research engine.

School Management in Transition Dale Shuttleworth, 2003-12-16 School Management in Transition examines the impact of the neo-conservative political agendas which still hold sway in education. It describes the transition that has occurred in the school leader's role from teacher administrator to quality control supervisor and how some schools have developed strategies to deal with the resulting issues. Based on a study carried out by the Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD), the book analyzes issues such as decentralization, testing, external assessment and privatization in the education systems of nine of the world's most industrialised countries: the USA, UK, Japan, Mexico, Belgium, the Netherlands, Sweden, Greece and Hungary. It contrasts different school management models in these countries and goes on to identify innovation and best practice designed to tackle such concerns as declining professional morale, premature retirements and teacher shortages. This book provides a unique insight into what is really happening in school leadership and management and will be of great interest to school leaders, academics, researchers and policy makers.

Inside the Primary Classroom: 20 Years On Chris Comber, Maurice Galton, Linda Hargreaves, Debbie Wall, 2013-01-11 In recent years, primary education has been the subject of continuing debate with questions of standards and their apparent decline being raised with alarming regularity. Central in informing these debates has been the ORACLE study of groupwork in primary classrooms. Published during the 1980s, the study described in detail the daily life of the primary classroom, the teaching styles used by teachers and the responses of pupils. That research has now been replicated with over two thirds of the schools originally studied being revisited using the same tests and observation instruments. This book presents the findings of this second round of research and is therefore unique in being able authoritatively to document the changes or lack of them in primary education and teaching practice over the last twenty years.

Children's Rights and the Developing Law Jane Fortin, 2009-08-13 This book examines how developing law and policies in England and Wales simultaneously promote and undermine children's rights.

Race and Ethnicity in Education Ranjit Arora, 2018-01-18 This publication is primarily intended for teachers, student teachers and for staff in teacher training institutions. It will also be of use to staff in further higher and adult education. It is primarily about issues of race and ethnicity in education and includes an examination of the relationship between policies and practices concerned with equal opportunities both in schools and in teacher training institutions. The central theme of this book is the preparation of all teachers through initial teacher training to implement equal opportunities in schools and to provide education for a positively diverse society. A secondary theme is that of the recruitment, training and employment of minority ethnic teachers in British educational institutions. The organization of this book allows the author to address the two central issues as identified above in the context of policies and practices as they have developed over the last two decades. It begins with a discussion about equality in the context of issues of quality.

followed by a discussion of race and education in its historical context It includes a historical and contemporary review of issues concerned with two major aspects of teacher education in relation to ethnic minorities Recent developments in initial teacher education and issues of partnership with schools are explored with a view to identifying the needs of schools The book ends with an in depth discussion of equality assurance in education and offers a framework for permeation as well as an agenda for action for all concerned with education
