

Give Me a Brake!

One of the most important components of your Acura's braking system is the brake fluid. Do you apply pressure to the brake pedal? That's a simplified description of a complex process, which includes action by the master cylinder, the ABS (anti-lock brake system) controlling the calipers, and numerous sensors.

To ensure that these components continue to perform their intended function requires a fluid that does not compress and that can withstand very high temperatures without boiling.

Because brake fluid is hygroscopic, over time it can absorb moisture, lowering the fluid's boiling point and increasing the likelihood of corrosion in many critical components. That can compromise your safety and be expensive to repair.

Changing your brake fluid every three years and specifying Honda Heavy Duty DOT 3 brake fluid will help ensure that you get the maximum safety and service life from your braking system.

Oil—the Life of Your Acura

You probably assume that oil is a lubricant, but did you know your vehicle oil has many other functions as well?

Your oil also plays a critical role in keeping your engine cool. The combustion process generates heat that can reach several thousand degrees. Without oil, your vehicle's coolant system would be quickly overwhelmed.

Oil also helps keep your engine clean. By products of combustion and other contaminants (such as dust from braking or suspension) are carried to the oil filter where they are captured and held between oil changes.

Following the recommended oil change intervals can help ensure that the oil in your Acura's engine is up to the job.

Get On the Right Track!

How can Acura get a bad reputation? Does it mean to blame only when you're the other? You may need our precision four-wheel alignment.

Correct wheel alignment can significantly increase the life of your tires, and that's important to reducing your per-mile maintenance costs. Additionally, correct wheel alignment can help ensure that your vehicle handles as it was designed. Our Acura factory-trained service technicians will check and adjust all alignment settings, check tire pressure and wear patterns, center the steering wheel and get you back on track!

Regular Preventive Maintenance

Regular preventive maintenance for your Acura is one of the best ways to protect your investment. Proper maintenance is also essential to your safety and that of your passengers.

When your vehicle is serviced at our dealership, factory-trained technicians use both technical information and special tools to perform all recommended procedures. Our level of service is designed to be one par with the quality of the vehicle you own.

Our Acura technicians know Acuras inside and out, so they can spot even small problems and proactively before they require costly repairs. Plus, our experienced Acura technicians use economy to maintain the performance level you expect from your Acura.

Secure Honda Fluids

To help ensure a long service life for your Acura, we use genuine Honda fluids when servicing your vehicle. Take our PSF (PSF) 5W-30 Coolant for example. It's a uniquely formulated ethylene glycol based product engineered by Honda R&D to help give maximum service life to all Acura cooling systems. For convenience, it has been blended to the factory specified 50/50 mix with purified, de-ionized water.

Over 85% of the vehicles on the market use ethylene glycol as a premix, but these vehicles can cause premature wear to water pump seals, so Honda engineers formulated a superior corrosion inhibitor without silicates.

For service and all other genuine Honda fluids, meet the demanding specifications set by our engineers.
