

NEURONS are nerve cells that provide communication throughout the body. Read the statements below and label the neuron using clues from the statements

- The cell body is in charge of the neuron. It fuels the neuron's activities and contains the nucleus, but not the axons or dendrites.
 - Nucleus is located in the cell body and contains genetic material in the form of chromosomes.
 - Axon carries the messages away from the cell body.
 - Myelin Sheath covers the axon to protect it and help messages travel faster and easier.
 - Dendrites receive messages from other neurons and conducts them to the cell body.
 - The synapse is the junction between the axon terminals of one neuron and the dendrites of another neuron.
- jhj- Axon Terminals fibers at the end of the axon that transmits neurotransmitters to the dendrites of another neuron.

NEURON Review

Nerve cells, called ⁽⁷⁾ neurons, run through our entire bodies and communicate with to each other.

A. Components of a Neuron

- ⁽⁸⁾ dendrites receives information from other neurons and pass the message through the cell body.
- ⁽⁹⁾ axon carries messages away.
- What purpose does the cell body play? ⁽¹⁰⁾ produces energy that fuels the neuron's activity
- What purpose does the fatty myelin play? ⁽¹¹⁾ insulates and protects the axon

B. Communication Process

In order for a message to be sent from one neuron to another neuron, it must cross the synapse. This is a junction between the axon terminals of one neuron and the dendrites of another neuron. (It's a small gap, less than a millionth of an inch wide.

Progress in Motor Control Dagmar Sternad, 2008-12-25 It has become widely acknowledged and almost trivial to state that the study of the control and coordination of biological movement motor control is inherently multidisciplinary From the investigation of overt functional behavior to the intricacies of neuronal activations the issues are numerous and invite many different levels of analysis methods and perspectives Clearly the biological movement system is simultaneously a dynamical neurophysiological electrophysiological and intentional system in short a complex system in the technical sense of the word While multidisciplinary in motor control research is a necessity it also presents a stumbling block to developing a coherent body of knowledge that represents the science of the control and coordination of movement Research thrusts are developing from different academic backgrounds that are not easily understood by peers with entirely different disciplinary training Not only for the student of motor control but also for the advanced researcher it can be daunting to make connections for example between cognitive issues like planning or attention and functional properties of the peripheral nervous system between motor cortical activation and the biomechanics of the multi joint limb system Yet all of these approaches aim to shed light on the same phenomenon the astonishing ability of biological systems to move perceive grow adapt use tools and do infinitely more things For the science of motor control to progress more integration of disciplines is therefore necessary Student
