Rafael Kane

Head Teacher

10 Nathaniel Blvd.

Englewood, NM 07631

Dear Mr. Kane,

It is with mixed emotions that I write this letter of farewell as your principal. A wonderful opportunity has surfaced, and I find myself needing to exit St. August Elementary for a new job. I will soon be starting in the role of Dean at City College.

Under my reign, we've shared numerous accomplishments and have faced some challenges. Yet, together, we have a stronger and much better school. I would like to take this opportunity to extend my sincerest thank you to you and the staff of St.

Assistant Principal Farewell Letter:

The Road to Shine Laurie Gardner, 2014-05-12 For anyone who has ever sensed that there must be something more let the adventure begin Using her own personal professional and exotic travel experiences Laurie Gardner shows how we can derive life changing insights and essential personal growth from any situation Most importantly we discover how to connect with our deepest desires and our highest selves learning to honor our own intuition and truth Laurie Gardner has Harvard degrees in comparative world religions psychology and education She dedicated her career to spearheading an international public school reform movement and is a master practitioner in body mind spirit wellness Decolonising Geography? Disciplinary Histories and the End of the British Empire in Africa, 1948-1998 Ruth Craggs, Hannah Neate, 2023-10-02

DECOLONISING GEOGRAPHY This book presents an extraordinarily sensitive account of geography's histories in five African countries subjected to British colonial rule Craggs and Neate draw together political and imaginative processes of decolonisation through an innovative biographical approach that humanizes and enlivens the story of our academic discipline It will be an invaluable resource for those seeking a deeper understanding of decolonisation its recent trajectories and far reaching implications on the African continent Shari Daya Affiliate Associate Professor in Environmental and Geographical Science University of Cape Town By placing the experiences ideas and practices of African geographers in the center of their analyses Craggs and Neate provide an unprecedented account of historical and contemporary decolonizing struggles within Geography and the academy This book should be required reading for all those looking to decolonize the discipline and dislodge it from its Global North histories institutions and ideologies Mona Domosh Professor of Geography The Joan P and Edward J Foley Jr 1933 Professor Dartmouth College This meticulous work explores how colonialism decolonization and postcolonialism shaped African geography and geographers It sheds light on efforts to Africanize the discipline a process which I was both witness to and a participant in Stanley Okafor Professor of Geography Retired University of Ibadan How did a generation of academic geographers engage with constitutional decolonisation during the end of the British empire in Africa In Decolonising Geography Disciplinary Histories and the End of the British Empire in Africa 1948 1998 Ruth Craggs and Hannah Neate explore how the teaching research administration and activism of geographers in Africa shaped the discipline and the post colonial geopolitics of the continent The authors follow the professional lives of individual geographers to provide fresh insights into decolonisation in the former British Empire in Africa drawing from extensive archival research and more than 40 oral history interviews with geographers in Ghana Nigeria South Africa Tanzania and the UK Decolonising Geography is a must read for any reader in the UK and Africa with an interest in the relationships between geography and decolonisation Belongings Zuzana Plesa, 2022-03-02 She has substituted collecting dolls books and dinnerware for a sense of belonging Her travels to various places in the world were a search for finding her place in the sun Where does she finally find her place of belonging Department of State News Letter United States. Department of

State,1965 Black Sapphire V. L. Harris,2021-09-09 This book makes an analogy of a black sapphire gemstone with stereotypical treatment of Americans against African American Women the effects of an army of American women being ignored devalued and hidden in plain sight An ordinary naturally formed rock begins deep inside the caverns of the earth Unnoticed uncut and unpolished it has no brilliance and no luster When outside pressure is placed upon underneath and around it it rises to bring out and up to the surface something unique authentic beautiful and valuable These are natural treasures hidden in plain sight a resource at a glance just under the surface A missed treasure hidden deep in the earth just waiting to be discovered So to the people and in the case of this memoir a Black woman who represent millions of Black women can be hidden prejudged ignored marginalized cajoled and abused because of society s decision to see them as a caricature a joke a buffoon a nag and in a negative connotation a black sapphire This story is of a Black woman coming of age in the United States of America over several decades She stumbles into her discovery that she is viewed through a different lens than her white counterparts She is judged contrary to the adage Don t judge a book by its cover She is judged by the cover of her book the color of her skin and not by the content of her skills talent or character Likewise the adage Sticks and stones may break my bones but words will never hurt me words can be abusive and inflict lifelong hurt like ghost in your memory and minds hanging around to haunt and hurt you again Treated as a third class citizen or as no citizen at all by fellow Americans is the story of millions who happen to be Black and female Seen yet not seen except as surface superficial and annoying outsiders locked out of the mainstream of society intentionally excluded so that their voices dreams needs potential and desires are ignored unrealized and unfulfilled The effect is a national pool of talent skills and human resources wasted This book is a tribute to African American women as a natural valuable treasure unrecognized unvalued hidden in plain sight 80 The Connecticut Common School Journal ,1864 SKETCH OF THE LIFE OR DR LUIGI

Zackodnik,2025-07-01 A corrective history of the essential role that Black women played in the early Black press In Great Thinkers and Doers Teresa Zackodnik looks at the vital and largely overlooked role of Black women readers writers and editors in the development of the Black press in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Understanding the relationship between the Black press and Black women s political and community organizing helps illuminate how important Black women were to this media phenomenon in its first one hundred years In the nineteenth century Zackodnik reveals the Black press was second only to the Black church in its centrality to Black politics and communities but histories of its development have long credited its founding and development to the Black men who were its editors Despite their underrepresentation in the leadership of Black public politics and the Black press women were overrepresented in the mutual benevolent moral improvement and literary societies that functioned as community centers of political oratorical and print culture work These societies supplied the Black press with content a readership and distribution nodes in Black communities throughout the nation Zackodnik examines the vital opportunity that this networking of the Black press with literary societies offered Black women readers to enter Black print space and advance communal goals She also explores how Black women gained a foothold within publications often initially with gateway genres such as letters to the editor and women s columns and shaped the Black press This book will change how we understand the early Black press and overlooked Black feminist print practices

"The Boss of the Whole School" Elizabeth Ann Hebert, 2006-04-24 Elizabeth Hebert uses her 21 years of experience as an elementary school principal to offer inspiration and guidance to aspiring and practicing administrators Using real life stories from an outstanding career this book examines the responsibilities demands and challenges principals manage on a daily basis demonstrates how qualities of leadership mature over time and the conditions that both nurture and suppress it provides a heartfelt and compelling rationale for becoming and staying a principal New and veteran administrators will recognize the school scenarios and appreciate the sincere voice of the author as she passes on valuable lessons learned
