Adaptation Authorship And Contemporary Women Filmmakers:

Adaptation, Authorship, and Contemporary Women Filmmakers S. Cobb, 2014-11-13 A lively discussion of costume dramas to women's films Shelley Cobb investigates the practice of adaptation in contemporary films made by women The figure of the woman author comes to the fore as a key site for the representation of women's agency and the authority of the woman filmmaker

Genre, Authorship and Contemporary Women Filmmakers Katarzyna Paszkiewicz, 2018-06-06 Examining the significance of women's work in popular film genres this text sheds light on women's contribution to genre cinema through an exploration of filmmakers like Kathryn Bigelow Diablo Cody Sofia Coppola and Kelly Reichardt

Women and New Hollywood Aaron Hunter, Martha Shearer, 2023-05-12 The 1970s has often been hailed as a great moment for American film as a generation of New Hollywood directors like Scorsese Coppola and Altman offered idiosyncratic visions of what movies could be Yet the auteurist discourse hailing these directors as the sole authors of their films has obscured the important creative roles women played in the 1970s American film industry Women and New Hollywood revises our understanding of this important era in American film by examining the contributions that women made not only as directors but also as screenwriters editors actors producers and critics Including essays on film history film texts and the decade's film theory and criticism this collection showcases the rich and varied cinematic products of women's creative labor as well as the considerable barriers they faced It considers both women working within and beyond the Hollywood film industry reconceptualizing New Hollywood by bringing it into dialogue with other American cinemas of the 1970s By valuing the many forms of creative labor involved in film production this collection offers exciting alternatives to the auteurist model and new ways of appreciating the themes and aesthetics of 1970s American film

Heightened Genre and Women's Filmmaking in Hollywood Mary Harrod, 2021-05-24 Despite the widely publicised prejudice faced by women in Hollywood since around 1990 a significant minority of female directors have been making commercially and culturally impactful films there across the full range of genres This book explores movies by filmmakers Amy Heckerling Nora Ephron Nancy Meyers Catherine Hardwicke Sofia Coppola Kimberly Peirce Kathryn Bigelow and Greta Gerwig including many which are still critically neglected or derided seeing them as offering a new understanding of genre filmmaking That is like many other contemporary films but in a striking proportion within the smaller set of mainstream movies by women this body of work revels in a heightened genre status that allows its authors to simultaneously address intellectual cinephilic pleasures and bodily emotive ones Arguing through close analysis that these films demonstrate the inseparability of such strategies of engagement in contemporary genre cinema Heightened Genre reclaims women's mainstream filmmaking for feminism through a recalibration of genre theory itself

Love Across the Atlantic Brickman Barbara Jane Brickman, 2020-02-14 Winston Churchill famously described the political alliance between the US and UK as a special relationship but throughout the cultural history of these two countries there have existed transatlantic special relationships of another kind affairs between British and American citizens who have fallen in love with one another but often too with the idea of that other place across the ocean From romantic novelist Elinor Glyn in the 1920s to Prince Harry and Meghan Markle today this collection examines some of the history contemporary manifestations and enduring appeal of US UK romance across popular culture Looking at both historical and contemporary case studies drawn from across film television music literature news and politics this is a timely intervention into the popular romantic discourse of US UK relations at a critical and transitional moment in the ongoing viability of the special relationship

Television Finales Douglas L. Howard, David Bianculli, 2018-11-13 Today more than ever series finales have become cultural touchstones that feed watercooler fodder and Twitter storms among a committed community of viewers While the final episodes of The Fugitive and M A S H continue to rank among the highest rated broadcasts more recent shows draw legions of binge watching fans Given the importance of finales to viewers and critics alike Howard and Bianculli along with the other contributors explore these endings and what they mean to the audience both in terms of their sense of narrative and as episodes that epitomize an entire show Bringing together a veritable who's who of television scholars journalists and media experts including Robert Thompson Martha Nochimson Gary Edgerton David Hinckley Kim Akass and Joanne Morreale the book offers commentary on some of the most compelling and often controversial final episodes in television history Each chapter is devoted to a separate finale providing readers with a comprehensive survey of these watershed moments Gathering a unique international lineup of journalists and media scholars the book also offers readers an intriguing variety of critical voices and perspectives

Narrative and Narration Warren Buckland, 2020-12-15 From mainstream blockbusters to art house cinema narrative and narration are the driving forces that organize a film Yet attempts to explain these forces are often mired in notoriously complex terminology and dense theory Warren Buckland provides a clear and accessible introduction that explains how narrative and narration work using straightforward language Narrative and Narration distills the basic components of cinematic storytelling into a set of core concepts narrative structure processes of narration and narrative agents The book opens with a discussion of the emergence of narrative and narration in early cinema and proceeds to illustrate key ideas through numerous case studies Each chapter guides readers through different methods that they can use to analyze cinematic storytelling Buckland also discusses how departures from traditional modes such as feminist narratives art cinema and unreliable narrators can complicate and corroborate the book's understanding of narrative and narration Examples include mainstream films both classic and contemporary art house films of every stripe and two relatively new styles of cinematic storytelling the puzzle film and those driven by a narrative logic derived from video games Narrative and Narration is a concise introduction that provides readers with fundamental tools to understand cinematic storytelling

Gender, Power, and Identity in The Films of Stanley Kubrick Karen A. Ritzenhoff, Dijana Metlić, Jeremi Szaniawski, 2022-10-21 This volume features a set of thought provoking and long overdue approaches to situating Stanley Kubrick's films in contemporary debates around gender race and age with a focus on women's representations. Offering new historical and critical perspectives on Kubrick's cinema, the book asks how his work should be viewed bearing in mind issues of gender equality, sexual harassment, and abuse. The authors tackle issues such as Kubrick's at times questionable relationships with his actresses and former wives, the dynamics of power, misogyny, and miscegenation in his films, and auteur apologism among others. The selections delineate these complex contours of Kubrick's work by drawing on archival sources, engaging in close readings of specific films, and exploring Kubrick through unorthodox vantage points. With an interdisciplinary scope and social justice centered focus, this book offers new perspectives on a well-established area of study. It will appeal to scholars and upper-level students of film studies, media studies, gender studies, and visual culture, as well as to fans of the director interested in revisiting his work from a new perspective.

Single Lives Katherine Fama, Jorie Lagerwey, 2022-05-13 Single Lives is a collection of singleness studies essays from the interdisciplinary humanities that explores the last two hundred years of literature and popular media by and about single women in the US and the UK. Independent women have always been a center around which social anxieties and excitement coalesced. Moving between the family home and domestic independence, between household and public labor, and between celibacy and a range of sexual relations, the single woman remains a literary and cultural focus as she has been from the 19th to the 21st centuries. This collection offers readers the opportunity to uncover the social, political, economic, and cultural connections between the singly blessed women and bachelor girls of the 19th and early 20th century and all the single ladies of the 21st century. Essays read singleness across genre and field, offering new approaches to studying modern and contemporary single women in literature, film, and history. Authors engage scholarship from wide-ranging fields of social history, women's studies, queer theory, and Black feminism. The collection reads familiar texts against the grain, rethinking archival resources, revisiting familiar figures, and exploring new sources: cookbooks, ephemera, personal documents, recovered film histories, and forms of domestic space and labor. This is a book for scholars of gender and sexuality, social history, feminist film, and media scholars, and literary historians, and reflects the urgent contemporary interest in single women as a political, economic, and cultural force.

Neo-Victorianism on Screen Antonija Primorac, 2017-11-17 This book broadens the scope of inquiry of neo-Victorian studies by focusing primarily on screen adaptations and appropriations of Victorian literature and culture. More specifically, this monograph spotlights the overlapping yet often conflicting drives at work in representations of Victorian heroines in contemporary film and TV. Primorac's close analyses of screen representations of Victorian women pay special attention to the use of costume and clothes, revealing the tensions between diverse theoretical interventions and generic, often market-oriented demands. The author elucidates the push and pull between postcolonial critique and nostalgic, often Orientalist spectacle, between feminist textual interventions and postfeminist media images. Furthermore, this book examines neo-Victorianism's relationship with postfeminist media culture and offers an analysis of the politics behind onscreen treatment of Victorian gender roles, family structures, sexuality, and
