Theory

The goal of this lab is to learn how to use PSoC 4's SAR ADC measure an analog signal, and use the LEDs to display that measurement. PSoC 4's Sequencing SAR ADC is capable of making 12-bit analog measurements at a rate up to 1 megasample per second, sequencing through inputs without CPU intervention.

The lab will also demonstrate how to use the PSoC 5LP program and debug part on the Pioneer Kit to implement additional behavior. In this case, we will use a WaveDAC on the PSoC 5LP to generate two waveforms that we will read with the PSoC 4 SAR ADC.

evolutionary and adaptive computing technologies with design and manufacturing processes whilst also taking into account complementary advanced computing technologies Evolutionary and adaptive computing techniques continue to increase their penetration of industrial and commercial practice as awareness of their powerful search exploration and optimisation capabilities becomes ever more prevalent and increasing desk top computational capability renders stochastic population based search a far more viable proposition There has been a significant increase in the development and integration of commercial software tools utilising adaptive computing technologies and the emergence of related commercial research and consultancy organisations supporting the introduction of best practice in terms of industrial utilisation The book is comprised of selected papers that cover a diverse set of industrial application areas including engineering design and design environments and manufacturing process design scheduling and control Various aspects of search exploration and optimisation are investigated in the context of integration with industrial processes including multi objective and constraint satisfaction development and utilization of meta models algorithm and strategy development and human centric evolutionary approaches The role of agent based and neural net technologies in terms of supporting search processes and providing an alternative simulation environment is also explored This collection of papers will be of particular interest to both industrial researchers and practitioners in addition to the academic research communities across engineering operational research and computer science
