Social Studies for Secondary Schools Alan J. Singer, 2008-10-26 This popular text advocates an inquiry and activity-based view of social studies teaching that respects the points of view of students and teachers. Based in practice and experience, it offers systematic support and open, honest advice for new teachers. It is conversational, not pedantic, and provides lots of examples. While the structure and most of the topics remain largely the same as before, this Third Edition presents new lesson ideas in every chapter, especially designed to help new teachers address learning standards, to work in inclusive settings, and to promote literacy and the use of technology in social studies classrooms. It puts a heavier focus on what is important to know and why, includes new essays on the politics of social studies education, responds to opponents of project or activity-based social studies instruction, and multicultural education with a sharpened defense of both of these approaches throughout the book. Intended as a text for undergraduate and graduate pre-service social studies methods courses, this text is also useful for in-service training programs as a reference for new social studies teachers and as a resource for experienced social studies educators who are engaged in rethinking their teaching practice.

Cultural Governance and Resistance in Pacific Asia William A. Callahan, 2006-05-03 This text examines the politics of culture and the culture of politics in Pacific Asia through case studies on the South Pacific, China, South Korea, Thailand, and Southeast Asia. The contexts and cultures of the chapters are wide-ranging, and Callahan skillfully ties them together with the objective of analyzing the relation between the state's cultural governance and resistance to it. The themes covered include governmentality and cultural production popular culture and resistance East West relations gender identity and democracy civil society social movements and democracy national and transnational identity production Cultural Governance and Resistance in Pacific Asia addresses the dynamics between Asian studies and cultural studies and the overlap between comparative politics and international relations and as such will appeal to students and scholars of Asian studies cultural studies comparative politics sociology and anthropology alike

The Presidential Rhetoric of Woodrow Wilson, Warren Harding, and Calvin Coolidge Ben Voth,2023-12-15 In this book Ben Voth argues that the centennial of the modern presidency embodied in the rhetoric of presidents Wilson Harding and Coolidge provides an opportunity to re examine our conventional understanding of U S presidents and presidential rankings In particular this book focuses on Wilson Harding and Coolidge s rhetoric surrounding women s suffrage and the political treatment of Black Americans Voth demonstrates that ideological considerations elevated Wilson too high in presidential rankings and sabotaged Harding to an unwarranted ethical floor Scholars of communication rhetoric and American history will find this book of particular interest

Does God Make a Difference? Warren Nord, 2010-11-10 In this provocative book Warren A. Nord argues that public schools and universities leave the vast majority of students religiously illiterate Such education is not religiously neutral a matter of constitutional importance indeed it borders on secular indoctrination when measured against the requirements of a good liberal education and the demands of critical thinking Nord also argues that religious perspectives must be included in courses that address morality and those Big Questions that a good education cannot ignore He outlines a variety of civic reasons for studying religion and argues that the Establishment Clause doesn't just permit but requires taking religion seriously While acknowledging the difficulty of taking religion seriously in schools and universities Nord makes a cogent case for requiring both high school and undergraduate students to take a year-long course in religious studies and for discussing religion in any course that deals with religiously controversial material The final chapters address how religion might best be addressed in history literature economics and perhaps most controversially science courses He also discusses Bible courses and the relevance of religion to moral education and ethics courses While his position will be taken by some as radical he argues that he is advocating a middle way in our culture wars Public schools and universities can neither promote religion nor ignore it Does God Make a Difference increases our understanding of a long and heated cultural conflict it also proposes a solution to the problem that is philosophically sound and in the long run eminently practical The Puerto Rico School Review, la Revista Escolar de Puerto Rico ,1921 Gaither's Dictionary of Scientific Quotations Carl C.
