CO2 Laser Cutting John Powell, 2012-12-06 The laser has given manufacturing industry a new tool When the laser beam is focused it can generate one of the world s most intense energy sources more intense than flames and arcs though similar to an electron beam In fact the intensity is such that it can vaporise most known materials The laser material processing industry has been growing swiftly as the quality speed and new manufacturing possibilities become better understood In the fore of these new technologies is the process of laser cutting Laser cutting leads because it is a direct process substitution and the laser can usually do the job with greater flexibility speed and quality than its competitors However to achieve these high speeds with high quality considerable know how and experience is required This information is usually carefully guarded by the businesses concerned and has to be gained by hard experience and technical understanding Yet in this book John Powell explains in lucid and almost non technical language many of these process wrinkles concerning alignment cornering pulsing water jets material properties cutting speeds as well as tricks with surface coating and much much more It is a book which managers and technicians in laser job shops and laser processing facilities would be foolish not to read

Living Materials Oliver Andrews, 1988-09-23 Every material has an active presence and every material is susceptible to change The task of the sculptor is to understand the natural properties of a chosen material to know in the process of creation how best to work with or against its characteristics In this generously illustrated studio manual sculptor Oliver Andrews takes a new approach to sculpture focusing on how the innate assertiveness of materials affects the complex act of making a sculpture Welding Engineer ,1924 Engineering News-record ,1910
