Miles of Stare Michelle Kohler, 2014-06-25 Miles of Stare explores the problem of nineteenth century American literary vision the strange conflation of visible reality and poetic language that emerges repeatedly in the metaphors and literary creations of American transcendentalists The strangeness of nineteenth century poetic vision is exemplified most famously by Emerson's transparent eyeball That disembodied omniscient seer is able to shed its body and transcend sight paradoxically in order to see not to create poetic language manifest on the American landscape In Miles of Stare Michelle Kohler explores the question of why given American transcendentalism's anti empiricism the movement's central trope becomes an eye purged of imagination And why furthermore she asks despite its insistent empiricism is this notorious eye also so decidedly not an eye What are the ethics of casting a boldly equivocal metaphor as the source of a national literature amidst a national landscape fraught with slavery genocide poverty and war Miles of Stare explores these questions first by tracing the historical emergence of the metaphor of poetic vision as the transcendentalists assimilated European precedents and wrestled with America's troubling rhetoric of manifest destiny and national identity. These questions are central to the work of many nineteenth-century authors writing in the wake of transcendentalism and Kohler offers examples from the writings of Douglass, Hawthorne, Dickinson, Howells, and Jewett that form a cascade of new visual metaphors that address the irreconcilable contradictions within the transcendentalist metaphor and pursue their own efforts to produce an American literature. Douglass's doomed witness to slavery, Hawthorne's reluctantly omniscient narrator, and Dickinson's empty miles of Stare variously skewer the authority of Emerson's all-seeing poetic eyeball while attributing new authority to the limitations that mark their own literary gazes. Tracing this metaphorical conflict across genres from the 1830s through the 1880s, Miles of Stare illuminates the divergent, contentious fates of American literary vision as nineteenth-century writers wrestle with the commanding conflation of vision and language that lies at the center of American transcendentalism and at the core of American national identity.

Three Secular Reasons Why America Should Be Under God William J. Federer, 2004. All men are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights. Declaration of Independence, 1776. Do you like having rights the government cannot take away? Do you like being equal? Do you like a country with few laws? Then you want America under God. The Rights of man Come not from the generosity of the state but from the hand of God. John F. Kennedy, 1961 Inaugural Address. We believe that all men are created equal because they are created in the image of God. Harry S. Truman, 1949 Inaugural Address. Our constitution was made only for a moral and religious people; it is wholly inadequate to the government of any other. John Adams, 1798 Letter to the Massachusetts Third Division.

Resources in Education, 2001-04. Candidate's Handbook. Thomas Zanzig, 2001. Our Candidate's Handbook has been completely redesigned in full color and is now both a valuable resource and a lifelong keepsake for the candidate. The content closely mirrors that of the Catechist's Guide. Functioning as a workbook and a reference, the handbook features clear, concise summaries of core theological content and includes central Catholic beliefs, key Scripture passages, inspiring quotes, and Catholic quick facts. Encyclopedia of American Gospel Music. W. K. McNeil, 2013-10-18. The Encyclopedia of American Gospel Music is the first comprehensive reference to cover this important American musical form. Coverage includes all aspects of both African American and white gospel, from history and performers to recording techniques and styles, as well as the influence of gospel on different musical genres and cultural trends.

Health planning reports subject index. United States. Health Resources Administration, 1979. Health Planning Reports: Subject index. 4 v. United States. Health Resources Administration, 1978. The Martindale-Hubbell Law Directory, 1996. Agitations. Kevin R.

Anderson, 2010-04-01. Though the activities of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), and the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) were unified in their common idea of resistance to oppression, these groups fought their battles on multiple fronts. The NAACP filed lawsuits and aggressively lobbied Congress and state legislatures while Martin Luther King Jr and SCLC challenged the racial status quo through nonviolent mass action and the SNCC focused on community empowerment activities In Agitations Kevin Anderson studies these various activities in order to trace the ideological foundations of these groups and to understand how diversity among African Americans created multiple political strategies Agitations goes beyond the traditionally acknowledged divide between integrationist and accommodationist wings of African American politics to explore the diverse fundamental ideologies and strategic outcomes among African American activists that still define influence and complicate political life today The Image of Environmental Harm in American Social Documentary Photography Chris Balaschak,2021-03-03 With an emphasis on photographic works that offer new perspectives on the history of American social documentary this book considers a history of politically engaged photography that may serve as models for the representation of impending environmental injustices Chris Balaschak examines histories of American photography the environmental movement as well as the industrial and postindustrial economic conditions of the United States in the 20th century With particular attention to a material history of photography focused on the display and dissemination of documentary images through print media and exhibitions the work considered places emphasis on the depiction of communities and places harmed by industrialized capitalism The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history visual studies photography ecocriticism environmental humanities media studies culture studies and visual rhetoric
