An Introduction To Classical Rhetoric Essential Readings:

An Introduction to Classical Rhetoric James D. Williams, 2009-05-04 An anthology of primary texts in translation An Introduction to Classical Rhetoric offers an overview of the social cultural and intellectual factors that influenced the development and growth of rhetoric during the classical period Uses primary source material to analyze rhetoric from the Sophists through St Augustine Provides an in depth introduction to the period as well as introductions to each author and each selection Includes study guides to help students develop multiple perspectives on the material stimulate critical thinking and provide starting points for dialogue Highlights include Gorgias's Palamedes Antiphon's Truth Isocrates Helen and Plato's Protagoras Each selection is followed by suggested writing topics and a short list of suggested additional readings

New Testament Rhetoric, Second Edition Ben Witherington III, Jason A. Myers, 2022-09-28 Witherington and Myers provide a much needed introduction to the ancient art of persuasion and its use within the various New Testament documents More than just an exploration of the use of the ancient rhetorical tools and devices this guide introduces the reader to all that went into convincing an audience about some subject Witherington and Myers make the case that rhetorical criticism is a more fruitful approach to the NT epistles than the oft employed approaches of literary and discourse criticism Familiarity with the art of rhetoric also helps the reader explore non epistolary genres In addition to the general introduction to rhetorical criticism the book guides readers through the many and varied uses of rhetoric in most NT documents not only telling readers about rhetoric in the NT but showing them the way it was employed This brief guide book is intended to provide the reader with an entrance into understanding the rhetorical analysis of various parts of the NT the value such studies bring for understanding what is being proclaimed and defended in the NT and how Christ is presented in ways that would be considered persuasive in antiquity from the introduction

Paul and the Rhetoric of Resurrection Timothy J. Christian, 2022-12-12 Have you ever wondered why Paul leaves the resurrection discussion in 1 Corinthians 15 for the end of the letter Have you pondered how 1 Corinthians 15 functions as the climax to 1 Corinthians This book answers those questions by exploring insinatio the Greco Roman rhetorical convention used to address prejudiced or controversial topics like resurrection at the end of a discourse This is the most thorough treatment of insinatio in Biblical and Classical studies to date It examines the Greco Roman rhetorical handbooks and speeches on insinatio compares them to what Paul does in 1 Corinthians 15 and finds that this was precisely Paul's rhetorical strategy in 1 Corinthians

A Synoptic History of Classical Rhetoric James J. Murphy, Richard A. Persuasion: History, Theory, Practice George Pullman, 2013-09-15 George Pullman's lively and accessible introduction to the study of persuasion is an ideal text for use in courses where the understanding and practice of argumentation rhetoric and critical thinking are central Continually challenging his readers to seek and recognize sound evidence to question the obvious and to assess and reassess the credibility of claims made by others including the author's own Pullman shows the way to strong writing effective speaking and rigorous critical thinking

Religious Discourse in Attic Oratory and Politics Andreas Serafim, 2020-10-29 The book offers a critical investigation of a wide range of features of religious discourse in the transmitted forensic symbouleutic and epideictic orations of the Ten Attic Orators a body of 151 speeches which represents the mature flourishing of the ancient art of public speaking and persuasion Serafim focuses on how the intersections between such religious discourse and the political legal and civic institutions of classical Athens help to shed new light on polis identity building and the construction of an imagined community in three institutional contexts the law court the Assembly and the Boul a community that unites its members and defines the ways in which they make decisions After a full scale survey of the persistently and recurrently used features of religious discourse in Attic oratory he contextualizes and explains the use of specific patterns of religious discourse in specific oratorical contexts examining the means or restrictions that these contexts generate for the speaker In doing so he explores the cognitive emotional and physical sensory reactions of the speaker and the audience when religious stimuli are provided in orations and how this contributes to the construction of civic and political identity in classical Athens Religious Discourse in Attic Oratory and Politics will be of interest to anyone working on classical Athens particularly its legal institutions on ancient rhetoric and ancient Greek religion and politics

Proof, Evidence and Hate Crime Tshepo Bogosi Mosaka, 2025-07-18 Proof is the property of a disputed fact being established inferentially from an extant fact This book explicates the structural components of this phenomenon in the context of hate crimes across various jurisdictions around the world It departs from the orthodox conception of evidence and proof as being a general value neutral or non normative and epistemic subject and offers a relativistic conception of this area of law The core argument is that proof is both semantically and methodologically determined by three conditions of materiality process and probativity This argument is then justified by the context specific application of this relativistic theory of proof to hate crimes This theoretical application of proof is sustained throughout the book using multiple examples and illustrations of hate crimes around the world The discussion both at the level of proof and hate crimes while focusing on the grounds of race religion and ethnicity specifically is framed in jurisprudential cross jurisdictional and interdisciplinary terms The book will be of interest to academics and researchers working in the areas of criminal law legal philosophy and procedural law

German Political Thought and the Discourse of Platonism Paul Bishop, 2019-01-18 Taking Plato's allegory of the cave as its starting point this book demonstrates how later European thinkers can be read as a reaction and a response to key aspects of this allegory and its discourse of enchainment and liberation Focusing on key thinkers in the tradition of European and specifically German political thought including Kant Marx Hegel Nietzsche Heidegger and the Frankfurt School it relates them back to such foundational figures as Rousseau Aristotle and in particular Plato All these thinkers are considered in relation to key passages from their major works accompanied by an explanatory commentary which seeks to follow a conceptual and imagistic thread through the labyrinth of these complex yet fascinating texts This book will appeal in particular to scholars of political theory philosophy and German language and culture

The Bounds of Myth Gustavo Esparza, Nassim Bravo, 2021-03-22 The articles in The Bounds of Myth edited by Gustavo Esparza and Nassim Bravo shed light on the internal shapes of the mythological discourse showing the way in which myth borders religion science literature theology i e other forms of rationality The contributing authors of the volume claim that myth is a valid form of thought and that the former evolves within other forms of discourse even though its composition is independent and even precedes the latter The articles collected here demonstrate the importance of myth as a form of thought that is in constant development a feature that shows in turn that in spite of its remote and archaic origin myth remains a valuable and relevant tool to interpret our own culture Contributors are Nassim Bravo Claudio Calabrese Teresa Enr quez Gustavo Esparza Ethel Junco Enrique Mart nez Cecilia Sabido and Jon Stewart
