Lawrence and the Culture of Homoerotic Desire* Feras

Alkabani,2024-09-19 In the 19th and early 20th centuries the Arabic speaking regions of the Ottoman Empire saw a crucial change in attitudes towards sexuality. Notions of respectability, propriety and sexual morality were being transformed in literary and cultural discourses, a shift that was related to the gradual rise in anti Ottoman Arab nationalism. However, contemporary Orientalists such as Sir Richard Burton and T E Lawrence were oblivious to certain aspects of this process of cultural reconfiguration. While accounts of male love poetry, ghazal al mudhakkar, were being gradually expurgated from the Arab literary heritage, elaborate narratives of Oriental homoerotic desire distinctively characterise the encounters of both Burton and Lawrence with the Arab East. By comparing their literary and autobiographical accounts of the Arab Orient with contemporary Arabic literature, Feras Alkabani is able to expose this critical disparity in cross cultural portrayals of sexual morality and homoerotic desire. Alkabani relates the conflicting agendas of contemporary Orientalists and Arab scholars to the shifts in international imperial power relations and the eventual collapse of the Ottoman Empire. His detailed comparative study reveals the significance of homoerotic desire within Orientalist and Arab literary discourses at a time when the meaning and connotations of poetic male love were undergoing a critical change in Arab culture and literature. It will prove invaluable for those researching Orientalism, nationalism, imperialism and manifestations of homoerotic desire in the fin de siècle Middle East.
