Hans Kung,2003-04-07 The fact cannot be overlooked that we are in the midst of a sociological crisis of orientation on the grand scale New problems and needs have become insistent new fears and longings have come to light Many are looking for a new foothold a fundamental certainty a compass for their life and the life of other human beings The inconsistencies and ambivalence of the phenomena cannot conceal the fact that religion is attracting greater attention the old religion and many new ones the Christian religion as well as the Islamic Hindu and Buddhist religions In East and West anyway the God Progress seems to have lost rapidly something of its credibility belief in a continually better life with the aid of science and technology and also through revolution and socialism has been shaken by serious doubts And while the elderly have not been able with all the aids of psychology to come to terms with the meaning of death younger people supposedly a no future generation apathetic noncommittal nervous and self destructive are asking afresh about the missing sense of life Meanwhile though science did the most in the last century to destroy belief in immortality and made stupendous efforts to prolong life it is medicine today that has broken through the taboos in regard to death and with its research into dying has given new life to the question of death and survival But has medicine or perhaps parapsychology proved that there is life after death      Current Index to Journals in Education ,1979      Resources in Women's Educational Equity: Special Issue ,1979      Loyola Educational Index ,1928      Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965 70      Boys' and Girls' Bookshelf: I. Guide to the bookshelf's use and enjoyment ,1912      The Impossible Craft Scott Donaldson,2015-02-23 In The Impossible Craft Scott Donaldson explores the rocky territory of literary biography the most difficult that biographers try to navigate Writers are accustomed to controlling the narrative and notoriously opposed to allowing intruders on their turf They make bonfires of their papers encourage others to destroy correspondence write their own autobiographies and appoint family or friends to protect their reputations as official biographers Thomas Hardy went so far as to compose his own life story to be published after his death while falsely assigning authorship to his widow After a brief background sketch of the history of biography from Greco Roman times to the present Donaldson recounts his experiences in writing biographies of a broad range of twentieth century American writers Ernest

Hemingway F Scott Fitzgerald John Cheever Archibald MacLeish Edwin Arlington Robinson Winfield Townley Scott and Charlie Fenton Donaldson provides readers with a highly readable insiders introduction to literary biography He suggests how to conduct interviews and what not to do during the process He offers sound advice about how closely biographers should identify with their subjects He examines the ethical obligations of the biographer who must aim for the truth without unduly or unnecessarily causing discomfort or worse to survivors He shows us why and how misinformation comes into existence and tends to persist over time He describes the mythical ideal biographer an imaginary creature of universal intelligence and myriad talents beyond the reach of any single human being And he suggests how its very impossibility makes the goal of writing a biography that captures the personality of an author a challenge well worth pursuing Educational Screen & Audio-visual Guide ,1962
