

Amnesty International Report 2007
the state of the world's human rights

The politics of fear dominated 2006. Unprincipled leaders deliberately manipulated fear to create divisions, stir dissent and evade accountability. Governments featured a climate of intolerance that fuelled conflict and human rights abuses, creating a rights vacuum which armed groups and corporations exploited for their own ends.

This Amnesty International Report documents the state of human rights in 155 countries during 2006. It reveals a world ravaged by armed conflict, repression and discrimination, where women are at constant risk of violence, where entire communities are moved or forcibly and racialised, where the report also points to the crucial achievements of human rights activists around the world in countering these abuses and holding impunity.

The human rights movement is at a crossroads against fear. It stands for justice over revenge, solidarity over self-interest, hope over despair. On a foundation of the commitment and collaboration of people from different cultures, religions and belief systems, united on the conviction that sustainable solutions must be grounded in human rights and in their determination to defend the rights of all.

The Death Penalty Roger Hood, Carolyn Hoyle, 2008 This new edition of a classic study assesses the global status of capital punishment As in previous editions this work draws on Roger Hood's experiences as consultant to the United Nations for the Secretary General's five yearly surveys of capital punishment as well as the latest literature from non governmental organizations and academic experts This edition examines significant developments around the world including the Chinese plan for the People's Supreme Court to review all death sentences and the abolition in the USA of the death penalty for offenders who committed murder while under the age of 18 Recent legal challenges to lethal injection as a form of execution are also examined This edition also includes an additional chapter on the role and influence of victims families and victim interest movements This volume shows how despite a number of set backs the movement to abolish the death penalty has continued to gather pace that international organizations and human rights treaties continue to put pressure on retentionist countries that further developments have been made in securing protection for those facing the death penalty in retentionist countries and that despite such advances in some parts of the world the range of crimes subject to the death penalty remains wide and the number of executions considerable This work engages with the latest debates on the realities of capital punishment with claims that the death penalty is a unique deterrent to murder and other serious crimes and contains expanded coverage of arguments about the role of public opinion in the debate on capital punishment Human Rights Annual Report 2007 Great Britain. Prato,2016-05-23 Against the background of unease at the increasingly loose and conflictual relationship between citizenship and governance this book brings together rich ethnographic studies from EU member states and post Communist and Middle Eastern countries in the Mediterranean Region to illustrate the crisis of legitimacy inherent in the weakening link between political responsibility and trust in the exercise of power With close attention to the impact of the ambiguities and distortions of governance at the local level and their broader implications at the international level where a state s legitimacy depends on its democratic credentials Citizenship and the Legitimacy of Governance initiates a comparative discussion of the relationship between established moralities politics law and civil society in a highly diversified region with a strong history of cultural exchange Demonstrating that a comparative anthropological analysis has much to offer to our understanding this volume reveals that the city is a crucial arena for the renegotiation of citizenship democracy and belonging The Legal Nature of International Human Rights Michael K. Addo,2010-05-17 The role and influence human rights in society has been enhanced by its association with international law and yet despite this legal springboard the scope of its legal nature remains uncertain By analysing the work of international human rights courts and treaty bodies alongside a brief historical review this book assesses the distinctive legal dimension of human rights It concludes that the legalisation of human rights is an unplanned and evolving social construct that continues under the managerial oversight of international human rights courts and treaty bodies which employ the primary tool of treaty interpretation These characteristics of the legal environment of human rights in international law provide a good appreciation of the law itself and its limits Tough on Crime Michelle Bonner,2019-09-06 Crime and insecurity are top public policy concerns in Latin America Political leaders offer tough on crime solutions that include increased policing and punishments and decreased civilian oversight These solutions while apparently supported by public opinion sit in opposition to both criminological research on crime control and human rights commitments Moreover many political and civil society actors disagree with such rhetoric and policies In Tough on Crime Bonner explores why some voices and some constructions of public opinion come to dominate public debate Drawing on a comparative analysis of Argentina and Chile based on over 190 in depth interviews and engaging the Euro American literature on punitive populism this book argues that a neoliberal media system and the resulting everyday practices used by journalists state and civil actors are central to explaining the dominance of tough on crime discourse The State of the World Atlas Dan Smith,2013-10-31 Over 50 full colour world maps and graphics break down hardcore statistics to provide a compelling analysis of all the political social economic and ecological nightmares that keep us awake at night The world s car population has grown five times as fast as the human population over the last 50 years Wal Mart s sales revenue exceeds the GDP of 150 countries Climate change may put 2.7 billion at risk of armed conflict Germany generates more tourists than anywhere else Americans use 160 times more water than people in Rwanda If you want to get behind the headlines and understand the world from urbanization to globalization terrorism to tourism military spending to human rights The State of the World Atlas is unmatched
