local elections and violently threaten the Power Over People Uma Aparna, 2024-08-12 Postcolonialism as a theoretical cogitation is bracketed under cultural studies Postcolonial studies in literature refers to the narratives from or on the nations that were colonised previously The history is such that even countries like America and Great Britain were colonised before the transformation in the position and outlook from colonised to coloniser Yet the narratives of Great Britain or even America do not fall under the categorisation of postcolonial studies This is because of their elevation to the status of super power and big brother Given this context what remains the logic behind this nomenclature For the sake of simpler understanding any country colonised by European countries particularly Great Britain is referred to as a colonised country This will constitute India Middle East Africa Carribean Islands Latin America Australia and Sri Lanka among others It can be easily said that Europe as a continent invaded then subdued rest of the continents in the world Women Writing Trauma in the Global South Annemarie Pabel, 2022-09-08 Through exploring complex suffering in the writings of Aminatta Forna Isabel Allende and Anuradha Roy Women Writing Trauma in the Global South dismantles conceptual shortcomings and problematic imbalances at the core of existing theorizations around psychological trauma The global constellation of women writers from Sierra Leone Chile and India facilitates a productive analysis of how the texts navigate intertwined experiences of individual and systemic trauma The discussion departs from a recent critical turn in literary and cultural trauma studies and transgresses many interrelated boundaries of geocultural contexts language and genre Discovering the role of literary forms in reparative articulation and empathic witnessing this critical intervention develops new ideas for an inclusive conceptual expansion of trauma from the global peripheries and contributes to the ongoing debate on marginalized suffering Sleeping on Jupiter Anuradha Roy, 2016-09-06 Long listed for the Man Booker Prize a women live out their long planned dream of a holiday together their temple guide pursues a forbidden love and Nomi is joined by a photographer to scout locations for a documentary As their lives Sleeping on Jupiter is a brilliantly told story of contemporary India from an internationally acclaimed writer India's Forests, Real and Imagined Alan Johnson, 2022-12-29 As they seek to explore how these settings have been integral to India's sense of national consciousness Alan Johnson demonstrates that modern writers have drawn on older Indian literary traditions of the forest as a place of exile trial and danger to shape new ideas of India as a modern nation The book casts new light on a wide range of modern writers from Bankim Chandra Chattopadhyay widely regarded as the first Indian novelist to contemporary authors such as Amitav Ghosh Arundhati Roy and Salman Rushdie as well as local attitudes to nationhood and the environment across the country Revisiting Diaspora In Stereotype Mrinalini Chakravorty, 2014-09-16 In Stereotype confronts the importance of cultural stereoptypes in shaping the ethics and reach of global literature Mrinalini Chakravorty focuses on the seductive force and explanatory power of stereotypes in multiple contexts whether depicting hunger crowdedness filth slums death migrant flight terror or outsourcing She argues such commonplaces are crucial to defining cultural identity and ethics in contemporary literature as well as ideas about otherness and shows how the stereotype s ambivalent nature exposes the many crises of liberal development in South Asia Chakravorty considers the influential work of Salman Rushdie Aravind Adiga Michael Ondaatje Monica Ali Mohsin Hamid and Chetan Bhagat among others to show how stereotypes about South Asia provide insight into the material and psychic investments of contemporary imaginative texts the colonial novel the transnational film and the international best seller Probing contexts that range from the independence of the Indian subcontinent to poverty tourism civil war migration domestic labor and terrorist radicalism Chakravorty builds an interpretive lens for reading literary representations of cultural and global difference More generally she reevaluates the contemporary fascination with transnational novels and films that manufacture global differences by staging intersubjective encounters between cultures through stereotypes My Country Is Literature Chandrahas Choudhury, 2021-11-30 A book
