An Interest In Life Grace Paley:

Grace Paley Jacqueline Taylor, 2014-02-19 Grace Paley is a writer's writer admired by both scholars and the reading public for her originality and unique voice. In this first book-length study of her work, Jacqueline Taylor explores the source of Paley's originality, locating it in the way Paley transforms language to create strongly woman-centered stories. Drawing on interviews with the author as well as the stories themselves, Taylor emphasizes Paley's awareness that women's voices have been muted and their stories ignored or left untold in our culture's male-oriented dominant discourse. She watches Paley in the process of reshaping language at both the semantic and narrative levels to make it express women's perceptions and experiences. In Paley's stories, it becomes possible to ignore traditional heroic and dramatic themes and instead talk about women and children in such everyday settings as the playground, the kitchen, and the grocery store. Some of the specific techniques Paley uses to accomplish this include identifying and repudiating sexist language in the dominant discourse and redefining ordinary words from the perspective of women. At the narrative level, Taylor reveals how she draws on women's oral traditions to tell open-ended stories that resist rigid beginning, middle, and end structuring. This transformed language enables Paley to construct a social world where woman-centered meanings can flourish. In her nontraditional stories, no single narrator or version of events dominates. Anyone can be a storyteller, and no one has the last word. Handbook of the American Short Story Erik Redling, Oliver Scheiding, 2022-01-19 The American short story has always been characterized by exciting aesthetic innovations and an immense range of topics. This handbook offers students and researchers a comprehensive introduction to the multifaceted genre with a special focus on recent developments due to the rise of new media. Part I provides systematic overviews of significant contexts ranging from historical political backgrounds, short-story theories developed by writers, print and digital culture to current theoretical approaches and canon formation. Part II consists of 35 paired readings of representative short stories by eminent authors charting major steps in the evolution of the American short story from its beginnings as an art form in the early nineteenth century up to the digital age. The handbook examines historically, methodologically, and theoretically the coming together of the enduring narrative practice of compression and concision in American literature. It offers fresh and original readings relevant to studying the American short story and shows how the genre performs American culture. Conversations with Grace Paley Grace Paley, 1997

With firm authority, Paley discusses topics of wide range, many of which she describes as personal discoveries. She includes politics and environmentalism, the family and human relationships, the impact of background and education, the moral importance of community, feminism and women's liberation, the sexual self and role enforcement, America's need for communality and women's creative response to it, the art of teaching and the importance of friendship. In Defense of Dialogue Monika Gehlawat, 2020-02-25 In In Defense of Dialogue, Reading Habermas and Postwar American Literature offers a timely investigation of the value of dialogue in contemporary American culture. Using Jürgen Habermas's theory of communicative action to read the work of Frank O'Hara, James Baldwin, Grace Paley and Andy Warhol. In Defense of Dialogue assembles postwar writers who have never been studied alongside one another showing how they overcame the pervading skepticism of their contemporaries to imagine sincere and rational speakers who seek to cultivate intersubjective discourse.

Grace Paley's Life Stories Judith Arcana, 1993. Is at the core of Judith Arcana's biographical reading of this strongly autobiographical writer. Grace Paley's Life Stories interweaves details about Paley with critical discussions of her works examining her as a woman, mother, activist, and Jew. Arcana visited and interviewed Paley at her homes in Vermont and New York over a period of several years. She also interviewed Paley's family friends and colleagues. Such extensive research is unmatched in Paley scholarship.

Let the Crazy Child Write! Clive Matson, 2011-02-08. Twelve lively in-depth chapters reveal how following our untrained impulses, our creative unconscious, or Crazy Child gives an authentic grasp on writing stories, poems, plays, and essays. Let the Crazy Child Write introduces exercises that explicitly tap this knowledge and also presents guidelines on how to give and receive constructive feedback. This is the first how-to write text to give full credit to the creative unconscious since Becoming a Writer, the 1934 classic by Dorothea Brande. Matson goes further by developing writing techniques step by step: Image, Detail, Slow Motion, Hook, Persona, Writing Point of View, Dialogue, Plot, Narrative.

Being Single, with Cancer Tracy Maxwell, 2014-08-11. My Dance with Cancer tells Tracy's story of facing ovarian cancer as a thirty-something single woman from diagnosis through treatment and now survivorship. Tracy addresses the physical and emotional aspects of the disease and highlights lessons she learned and shared through her blog. A Single Cell Tracy speaks directly to the hopes and fears, insecurities and triumphs of a single person with cancer. She discusses the emotions and practicalities of dealing with a diagnosis, including getting support as a single person and what patients who are single need from those around them. She shares intimate stories of her experiences and looks at the roles of fear, friends, family, dating, traditional holidays, and creating new ones based on her cancer experience. She looks at the lessons learned, setbacks, the importance of paying it forward, how people can protect themselves, states of mind, and the role of gratitude. Tracy ends with a chapter on love, including the importance of loving herself, highlighting the journey she took to learn to love her self and trust her intuition. Tracy invites the reader to answer questions at the end of each chapter so they too can learn life lessons from their experience.

American Short Story since 1950 Kasia Boddy, 2010-08-31. The American Short Story since 1950 offers a reappraisal and contextualisation of a critically underrated genre during a particularly rich period in its history. It offers new readings of important stories by key writers including Flannery O'Connor, John Cheever, Donald Barthelme, Raymond Carver, Lorrie Moore, and Grace Paley. These readings are related throughout to the various contexts in which stories are written and published, including creative writing schools, story writing handbooks, mass market, and little magazines.
