

The background of the entire slide is a close-up, high-contrast image of crumpled paper. The paper is light-colored, possibly off-white or light beige, and is heavily textured with numerous sharp folds, creases, and wrinkles. The lighting creates a range of tones from pale yellow to light brown, emphasizing the three-dimensional quality of the crumpling.

An Accidental Environmental Artist:

An Accidental Environmental Artist John Dahlsen, 2014-11-13 John Dahlsen is a leader in the field of environmental art worldwide. He has hundreds of international awards for his creations and his art is considered Highly Collectible. As an acclaimed public speaker, he has engaged audiences around the world with his work, his career, and business strategies for artists. Take a journey with John as he tells his story of becoming an Accidental Environmental Artist and share in hundreds of his creations in living color. Global South Ethnographies Elke Emerald, Robert E. Rinehart, Antonio Garcia, 2016-07-15

Both an introduction to sensory ethnography and a bold display of the sophisticated use of the sensory for contemporary ethnography, Global South Ethnographies: Minding the Senses reflects both indigenous and non-mainstream takes on the sensory and the sensual in ethnographic practice. The authors provide a collection of original and timely chapters from both the hegemonic northern and Global Southern hemispheres. As the chapters stem from across a variety of disciplines, the book gives us novel ways of determining and perceiving the sensory. American Artists Engage the Built Environment, 1960-1979 Susanneh Bieber, 2023-07-31

This volume reframes the development of US American avant-garde art of the long 1960s from minimal and pop art to land art, conceptual art, site-specific practices, and feminist art in the context of contemporary architectural discourses. Susanneh Bieber analyzes the work of seven major artists: Donald Judd, Robert Grosvenor, Claes Oldenburg, Robert Smithson, Lawrence Weiner, Gordon Matta-Clark, and Mary Miss, who were closely associated with the formal aesthetic innovations of the period. While these individual artists came to represent diverse movements, Bieber argues that all of them were attracted to the field of architecture, the work of architects, engineers, preservationists, landscape designers, and urban planners, because they believed these practices more directly shaped the social and material spaces of everyday life. This book's contribution to the field of art history is thus twofold. First, it shows that the avant-garde of the long 1960s did not simply develop according to an internal logic of art but also as part of broader sociocultural discourses about buildings and cities. Second, it exemplifies a methodological synthesis between social art history and poststructural formalism that is foundational to understanding the role of art in the construction of a more just and egalitarian society. The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history, architecture, urbanism, and environmental humanism. Environment Art in the Game Industry Henry Kelly, 2021-11-05

This book explains the fundamentals of being a talented games Environment Artist by outlining the key considerations that most Environment Artists tend to forget. Focusing on the use of Substance Designer to create rich, colourful, and realistic environments, the book shows how to improve storytelling and how to think outside the box. Following a step-by-step process to create a realistic state of the art materials that help bring game narratives and worlds to life, this book provides a new perspective on Environment Art by covering the latest, most creative industry techniques using Substance Designer. This book should appeal to new and aspiring games Environment Artists as well as those looking to increase their knowledge of Substance Designer. The final stages of this book give a sneak peek into creating foliage in the game industry Henry Kelly is the Lead Artist at REWIND a VR and AR studio with the vision of a better future for VR and AR

Form, Art and the Environment Nathalie Blanc, Barbara Benish, 2016-10-04 Form Art and the Environment Engaging in Sustainability adopts a pluralistic perspective of environmental artistic processes in order to examine the contributions of the arts in promoting sustainable development and culture at a grassroots level and its potential as a catalyst for social change and awareness This book investigates how community arts environmental creativity and the changing role of artists in the Polis contribute to the goal of a sustainable future from a number of interdisciplinary perspectives From considering the role that art works play in revealing local environmental problems such as biodiversity public transportation and energy issues to examining the way in which artists and art works enrich our multidimensional understanding of culture and sustainable development Form Art and the Environment advocates the inestimable value of art as an expressive force in promoting sustainable culture and conscious development Utilising a broad range of case studies and analysis from a body of work collected through the international environmental COAL prize this book examines the evolution of the relationship between culture and the environment This book will be of interest to practitioners of the environmental arts culture and sustainable development and students of Art Environmental Science and International Policy and Planning Development

What Goes Up Michael Sorkin, 2018-04-17 Michael Sorkin is one of the most forthright and engaging architectural writers in the world In What Goes Up he charts the dehumanising regimes of mayors Bloomberg and De Blasio that created a city of glittering towers and increasing inequality He looks at what has happened to Ground Zero as a place of memory has been reconstructed by staritects and turned into malls The city he suggests has to be reimagined from the street up on a human scale to develop new ways to revitalise neighbourhoods Alongside these essays on New York Sorkin also brings his lifetime's experience as an architect to bear He talks of the joy of observing a city in order to understand it Why a young designer must learn to draw by hand rather than only use a computer There are also personal encounters with some of the greatest names who have changed the city Sorkin gets lost in Rio with Zaha Hadid and talks about the old Bronx with Marshall Berman

Design by Accident Alexandra Midal, 2023-09-26 A counterhistory and new historiography of design In Design by Accident Alexandra Midal declares the autonomy of design in and on its own terms This meticulously researched work proposes not only a counterhistory but a new historiography of design shedding light on overlooked historical landmarks and figures while reevaluating the legacies of design's established luminaries from the nineteenth century to the present Midal rejects both linear narratives of progress and the long held perception of design as a footnote to the histories of fine art and architecture By weaving critical analysis of the canon of design history and theory together with special attention to the writings of designers themselves she draws out the nuances and radical potentials of the discipline from William Morris's ambivalence toward industry to Catharine Beecher's proto feminist household appliances to the Bauhaus's Expressionist origins and the influence of Herbert Marcuse on Joe Colombo
