

Economic System	What goods & services shall be produced and in what quantities?	How shall goods and services be produced?	For whom shall goods and services be produced?
Mercantilism (16 th – 18 th century Europe) use of colonies for trade to make a profit	Colonies = raw materials (Sugar, tobacco, fur, timber, etc.)  European (mother) country = manufactured goods	Colonies = plantations produce cash crops + other raw materials  European (mother) country = produces manufactured goods (early factories develop)	Colonies seen as possessions of European country & forbidden to trade with other nations  Mother country makes profit and gains benefits not enjoyed by colonists
"free market" Capitalism (18 th – 21 st century) Businesses are owned individually and run for profit	Food, raw materials, basic goods, manufactured goods produced in mass quantities for sale on the "open market"	Private Ownership Farmers and business owners hire workers to produce goods as cheaply as possible.  Quantities & prices of goods determined by supply & demand	Individually owned businesses produce goods or services based on demand for goods, which are then sold for the greatest possible profit without government interference
"command economy" Communism (19 th – 21 st century) Big businesses are owned by society as a whole and directed by the government for benefit of everyone equally	Food, raw materials, basic & manufactured goods produced in manner directed by government in quantities determined by government (quotas).	Ownership by whole society Government directs large businesses, factories, railroads, etc., determining how, where, and by whom goods are produced by setting quotas.  Qualities & quantities of goods to be produced determined by government plan. Prices for basic goods set by government.	Goods and services produced for the society as a whole following a plan created by the government.  Prices of basic goods are set at low levels to ensure that all citizens can afford them.  Communist economies are usually run by dictatorships with only one political party (i.e. the Communist Party).  Communist Party members receive privileges and have access to goods that regular citizens cannot get or afford.

Education at a Glance 2005 OECD Indicators OECD,2005-09-13 This book provides a rich comparable and up to date array of education indicators covering participation expenditure resources outcomes and management Geographies of Agriculture Guy Robinson,2014-01-14 Agricultural Geography has changed dramatically in recent decades reflecting the transformation of the farming industry itself Geographies of Agriculture embraces these changes applying ideas and methods from contemporary social science as it moves beyond farm based production to address current issues affecting the production and consumption of food and fibre throughout the world The book places special emphasis on topics that reflect globalisation processes integration of agriculture into the wider agri food system concern with attaining sustainable production systems and the importance of both government and supra government policies Examples are drawn from North America Western Europe and the developing world Geographies of Agriculture will appeal especially to Geography students but should also be of interest to a broader range of students in Sociology Economics and Development Studies and anyone interested in agriculture food production and consumption and rural development Climate Neutral and Resilient Farming Systems Udaya Sekhar Nagothu,2022-11-08 This book presents evidence based research on climate neutral and resilient farming systems and further provides innovative and practical solutions for reducing greenhouse gas emissions and mitigating the impact of climate change Intensive farming systems are a significant source of greenhouse gas emissions thereby contributing to global warming and the acceleration of climate change As paddy rice farming is one of the largest contributors and environmentally damaging farming systems it will be a particular focus of this book. The mitigation of greenhouse gas emissions needs to be urgently addressed to achieve the 2°C target adopted by COP21 and the 2015 Paris Agreement but this is not possible if local and national level innovations are not accompanied by international level cooperation, mutual learning and sharing of knowledge and technologies. This book therefore brings together international collaborative research experiences on climate neutral and resilient farming systems compiled by leading scientists and experts from Europe, Asia and Africa. The chapters present evidence based research and innovative solutions that can be applied or upscaled in different farming systems and regions across the world. Chapters also present models and technologies that can be used for practical implementation at the systemic level and advance the state of the art knowledge on carbon neutral farming. Combining theory and practice, this interdisciplinary book provides guidance which can inform and increase cooperation between researchers from various countries on climate neutral and resilient farming systems. Most importantly, the volume provides recommendations which can be put into practice by those working in the agricultural industry, especially in developing countries where they are attempting to promote climate neutral and resilient farming systems. The book will be of great interest to students and academics of sustainable agriculture, food security, climate mitigation and sustainable development, in addition to policymakers and practitioners working in these areas. Integrating Indigenous and Scientific Knowledge for Sustainable Food Systems in Africa Saa Dittoh, Anna Bon, Hans Akkermans, 2025-04-25. This open access book presents a novel approach to food security research, SDG 2 Zero Hunger, by integrating indigenous and scientific knowledge. Through extensive field based research in Burkina Faso, Ghana, Kenya, Mali and South Africa, it explores the impact of merging traditional practices and local knowledge with scientific methods. Through field studies, the book shows the value of local knowledge and community led innovations in combating hunger, achieving food security and enhancing nutrition sustainably and food sovereignty. Drawing on decades of research in rural Africa, the authors introduce the Plug In Principle, a theory for integrating indigenous and modern knowledge systems to foster sustainable agricultural practices and enriched food ecosystems in Africa. The Plug In Principle advocates that advancements in science and technology should enhance rather than replace existing indigenous knowledge. This principle emerged from the failures of many development interventions where attempts at replacement often led to challenges and failures. In agriculture, for instance, interventions in mechanization, soil amendments, seed and breed improvements and extension services have seldom succeeded due to a lack of integration with existing practices. The Plug In Principle emphasizes that effective knowledge integration hinges on a deep understanding and appreciation of prevailing systems. By designing interventions that seamlessly plug in to existing technologies, we can ensure the co creation of effective solutions to the challenges we face. This book is a testament to the potential of collaborative innovation in fostering sustainable development Development workers policymakers researchers students and donor agencies in agriculture and other development areas will find this volume invaluable Additionally scholars focused on decolonization and indigenous knowledge in the Global South will uncover insightful case studies and analyses Higher Education in a Globalising World J. Enders, Oliver Fulton, 2012-12-06 This Festschrift is dedicated to Ulrich Teichler who is celebrating his sixtieth birthday in 2002 Ulrich Teichler has been a central actor in the development of the field of research on higher education in Germany Europe and beyond Not only has he dedicated his professional career to studying a large number of higher education topics through national and international research projects He was also in the fore front of the efforts to strengthen the structure and profile of higher education research for example through his involvement in the establishment of the Consortium of Higher Education Researchers CHER In addition he has contributed to many important scholarly works reflecting on the state of the art and the nature of the field The conventional wisdom is that working in a university or college makes you an expert on higher education Consequently while academics like to do research on every possible topic they are in general reluctant to examine their own social institution Within the European context Ulrich Teichler is one of the main exceptions to this rule Already in his student days he has recognised the unique characteristics of higher education institutions and systems and he understood that special efforts are needed to improve our knowledge on higher education
