The book contends that the acceptance of translation and imitation in the literary life of a country does not imply denying the specific conditions created by political borders in the constitution of a national literature that is the existence of national borders framing literary life. What it does is recognize new and different frontiers that destabilize the national confines as well as the nationalistic values of literary history. In translation and imitation borders are experienced not as the demarcation of otherness but rather as crossroads in the quest for identity. Vocabulario de información y documentación automatizada Carlos Benito Amat, Luis María Corbalán Sánchez, 2003. Todas las actividades humanas implican una utilización específica del lenguaje y el desarrollo de vocabularios propios. Cuando dichas actividades alcanzan el rango de disciplinas los términos comunes varían de significado. Los sentidos emergentes sugieren nuevos vocablos y la interrelación mutua confiere acepciones y matices exclusivos. La normalización de estos cambios en forma de enseñanzas regladas obliga a un acuerdo de forma que los conceptos se trasladen y empleen de manera inequívoca. Vocabulario de información y documentación automatizada propone una combinación de diccionario de uso, vocabulario e índice sobre información y documentación y ofrece la sistematización puesta al día y definición de más de 800 términos de empleo corriente en biblioteconomía y documentación especialmente tiles a los estudiantes de estas disciplinas.

Developmental Local Governance Eris D. Schoburgh, John Martin, Sonia Gatchair, 2016-01-26. The primary purpose of this edited collection is to evaluate critically the relationship between local government and national economic development. It focuses on how the relationship between local government and development is structured and the specific institutional arrangements at national and subnational levels that might facilitate local government's assumption of the role of development agent. In light of the contradictory outcomes of development and implied experimentation with new modalities post development discourse provides a useful explanatory framework for the book. Schoburgh Martin and Gatchair's central argument is that the pursuit of national developmental goals is given a sustainable foundation when development planning and strategies take into account elements that have the potential to determine the rate of social transformation. Their emphasis on localism establishes a clear link between local government and local economic development in the context of developing countries.

The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a brilliant and gripping novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
