From beliefs to dynamic affect systems in mathematics education Birgit Pepin, Bettina Roesken-Winter, 2014-10-21
This book connects seminal work in affect research and moves forward to provide a developing perspective on affect as the decisive variable of the mathematics classroom. In particular, the book contributes and investigates new conceptual frameworks and new methodological tools in affect research and introduces the new field of collectives to explore affect systems in diverse settings. Investigated by internationally renowned scholars, the book is built up in three dimensions. The first part of the book provides an overview of selected theoretical frames, theoretical lenses to study the mosaic of relationships and interactions in the field of affect. In the second part, the theory is enriched by empirical research studies and provides relevant findings in terms of developing deeper understandings of individuals and collectives' affective systems in mathematics education. Here, pupil and teacher beliefs and affect systems are examined more closely. The final part investigates the methodological tools used and needed in affect research. How can the different methodological designs contribute data which help us to develop better understandings of teachers and pupils' affect systems for teaching and learning mathematics and in which ways are knowledge and affect related.

Visual Approaches to Teaching Writing Eve Bearne, Helen Wolstencroft, 2007-09-26
Includes CD Rom. Why are visual approaches to literacy important? Children's experience of texts is no longer limited to words on printed pages; their reading and writing worlds are formed in multimodal ways combining different modes of communication including speech or sound, still or moving images, writing and gesture. This book is a practical guide for teachers in making sense of multimodal approaches to teaching writing. The book covers topics such as: The design of multimodal texts and the relationships between texts and images; How to build a supportive classroom environment for analysing visual and audiovisual texts and how to teach about reading images; How to plan a teaching sequence leading to specific writing outcomes; Examples of teaching sequences for developing work on narrative, non-fiction and poetry; Formative and summative assessment of multimodal texts providing levels for judging pupil development and suggestions for moving pupils forward; How to write review and carry out a whole school policy for teaching multimodal writing. The book is accompanied by a CD which contains a range of examples of children's multimodal work along with electronic versions of the activities and photocopiable sheets from the book and material designed for use with interactive whiteboards. It will be a valuable resource for primary teachers, literacy co-ordinators and students on initial teacher training courses.
