Press Summary - Illinois Information Service Illinois Information Service,1996      Media Review Digest C. Edward Wall,2001      How to Prepare a Standout College Application Alison Cooper Chisolm,Anna Ivey,2013-08-06

Demystifying the process of completing a college application Written by two former admissions officers at top universities and current admissions coaches this book is a must have for preparing a winning college application The authors reveal the mystery behind what college admissions officers are looking for and show applicants how to leverage their credentials stand out in the over crowded applicants pool and make a genuine memorable impression This is the book that will help the college bound get off the like many others pile and onto the acceptance list Includes instructions and examples for every component of the college application from writing the essay to answering questions like Why do you want to go to College X Shows how to avoid underestimating the importance of critical features on any application Includes the latest information on the Common Application 4 0 and corrects outdated holdover advice still stressed in many other books This book is filled with step by step advice that students and parents can use immediately and will refer to again and again      Talented Children and Adults Jane Piirto,1999 This extremely comprehensive book takes a developmental approach to giftedness and to talent development in all domains Designed to cover both the characteristics of gifted students and to present important information on how to teach them it is appropriate for introductory courses for gifted education and for methods courses It contains the latest results of federal research projects suggestions for inclusion and definitions of who is gifted and talented In addition it is the only book in the field with an entire chapter devoted to talented adults The author s readable prose and case examples written by real teachers contribute to the book s overall usefulness prompting some readers to call it their handbook      Michigan Professional Engineer ,1998      Mathematics Methods for the Elementary and Middle School Mary M. Hatfield,1993      The Education Index ,1976      Gender and Fair Assessment Warren W. Willingham,Nancy S. Cole,2013-12-16 There have been many important changes in the participation of women and men in American society over the past quarter century Tests play a role in those changes by providing evidence of the diverse achievement and proficiency of women and men They aid the learning process and reflect inequalities in opportunity to learn and participate In addition they provide useful information in considering what alternatives in education and work make most sense for individuals and influence views about groups of students educational programs and a wide range of issues For all of these reasons it is important that tests assess fairly and reflect accurately the ways young people are and are not achieving as well as desired The test performance of women and men is a research topic of historical interest and has received much attention in recent years Because of this increased interest there is a great deal of new research and data available The purpose of the study presented in this volume was to review this new information with two objectives in mind to clarify patterns of gender difference and similarity in test performance and related achievements and to see what implications those findings might have for fair assessment and as a corollary examine the assessment process as a possible source of gender differences This study is interested in tests used in education to assess developed knowledge and skill In order to gain a broader view of gender similarity and difference the contributors looked at other types of measures and other characteristics of young women and men Their hope is to contribute to a firmer basis for insuring fairness in tests an objective which is particularly important as the field moves increasingly to new forms of assessment in which there is less experience Resources in Education ,1984 The candidates James T.
