Scott, Charles F. Webber, 2015-10-20 This book provides key insights into how educational leaders can successfully navigate the turbulence of political debate surrounding leading student assessment and professionalised practice Given the highly politicised nature of assessment it addresses leaders and aspiring leaders who are open to being challenged willing to explore controversy and capable of engaging in informed critical discourse The book presents the macro concepts that these audiences must have to guide optimal assessment policy and practice Collectively the chapters highlight important assessment purposes and models including intended and unintended effects of assessment in a globalised context The book provides opportunities to explore cultural similarities and particularities It invites readers to challenge taken for granted assumptions about ourselves and colleagues in other settings The chapters highlight the cultural clashes that may occur when cross cultural borrowing of assessment strategies policies and tools takes place However authors also encourage sophisticated critical analyses of potential lessons that may be drawn from other contexts and systems Readers will encounter challenges from authors to deconstruct their assessment values beliefs and preconceptions Indeed one purpose of the book is to destabilise certainties about assessment that prevail and to embrace the assessment possibilities that can emerge from cognitive dissonance

Let's Destroy Alberta's Families Pascal Ronald, The true story of two grandparents fighting for the return of their illegally apprehended grandson by Child and Family Services Alberta CFSA The story starts when the grandson was apprehended at the age of three under the pretense that the drug using dad was potentially lethally dangerous to his son and caregivers and follows over two years of acrimony lies and CFSA fabrication of information with seemingly court approval resulting in tremendous costs as well as both psychological and physical health problems to the grandparents The seemingly insurmountable obstacles created and imposed by a government department speak to an above the law attitude by CFSA with no regard for the well being of their client who is the grandson Rescuing their grandson becomes their only mission The outcome is unbelievable The American Bar ,2007 Creating Together

Diane Conrad, Anita Sinner, 2015-03-20 Creating Together explores an emerging approach to research that combines arts practices and scholarship in participatory community based and collaborative contexts in Canada across multiple disciplines Looking at a variety of art forms from photography and mural painting to performance art and poetry the contributors explore how the process of creating together generates and disseminates collective knowledge The artistic processes and works in an arts based approach to scholarship make use of aesthetic experiential embodied and emotional ways of knowing and creating knowledge in addition to traditional intellectual ways The anthology also addresses the growing trend in arts based research that takes a participatory community based or collaborative focus and encourages scholars to work together with other professionals and with community groups to explore questions create knowledge and express shared understandings The collection highlights three forms of research participatory arts based research that engages participants in all stages of the inquiry and aims to produce practical knowing to benefit the community community based arts research that has community public space at the heart of practice and collaborative arts approaches involving multi levelled multi layered and interdisciplinary collaboration from diverse perspectives To illustrate how such innovative work is being accomplished in Canada the collection includes examples from British Columbia to Newfoundland and across disciplines including the fine arts education the health sciences and social work Engineering and Mining Journal ,1897

Walking the Land, Feeding the Fire Aalice Legat, 2012-06-01 In the Dene worldview relationships form the foundation of a distinct way of knowing For the Tlicho Dene indigenous peoples of Canada's Northwest Territories as stories from the past unfold as experiences in the present so unfolds a philosophy for the future Walking the Land Feeding the Fire vividly shows how through stories and relationships with all beings Tlicho knowledge is produced and rooted in the land Tlicho speaking people are part of the more widespread Athapaskan speaking community which spans the western sub arctic and includes pockets in British Columbia Alberta California and Arizona Anthropologist Alice Legat undertook this work at the request of Tlicho Dene community elders who wanted to provide younger Tlicho with narratives that originated in the past but provide a way of thinking through current critical land use issues Legat illustrates that for the Tlicho Dene being knowledgeable and being of the land are one and the same Walking the Land Feeding the Fire marks the beginning of a new era of understanding drawing both connections to and unique aspects of ways of knowing among other Dene peoples such as the Western Apache As Keith Basso did with his studies among the Western Apache in earlier decades Legat sets a new standard for research by presenting Dene perceptions of the environment and the personal truths of the storytellers without forcing them into scientific or public policy frameworks Legat approaches her work as a community partner providing a powerful methodology that will impact the way research is conducted for decades to come and provides unique insights and understandings available only through traditional knowledge published as a special issue of the journal Rethinking History Mining and Metallurgy, 1926 Calling for Change Sheila McIntyre, Elizabeth Sheehy, 2006-06-28 Unique in both scope and perspective Calling for Change investigates the status of women within the Canadian legal profession ten years after the first national report on the subject was published by the Canadian Bar Association Elizabeth Sheehy and Sheila McIntyre bring together essays that investigate a wide range of topics from the status of women in law schools the practicing bar and on the bench to women's grassroots engagement with law and with female lawyers from the frontlines Contributors not only reflect critically on the gains losses and barriers to change of the past decade but also provide blueprints for political action Academics community activists practitioners law students women litigants and law society benchers and staff explore how egalitarian change is occurring and or being impeded in their particular contexts Each of these unique voices offers lessons from their individual collective and institutional efforts to confront and counter the interrelated forms of systemic inequality that compromise women's access to education and employment equity within legal institutions and ultimately to equal justice in Canada Published in English Eye Opener Bob Grant MacEwan, 2011-11-15 Forty six years later those words still ring true there has since been no book that has brought to life early Calgary the way that Eye Opener Bob does Perhaps more importantly it's the closest we'll ever get to Robert Chambers Edwards Eye Opener Bob the irrepressible editor of Calgary's most singular newspaper and the city's most singular denizen Bob Edwards was a true Canadian original the prototypical hard drinking pull no punches editor of the Calgary Eye Opener at the time the largest paper between Vancouver and Toronto with a circulation of over 30 000 copies A paper with the power to elect or dethrone governments to bring the mighty CPR to reform its ways and to skewer the pretensions of society like few before or since Eye Opener Bob brings this fascinating character to life in all his glorious self contradictions MacEwan arrived in the city at just the right time to write Eye Opener Bob the old Sandstone City hadn't yet been whitewashed over by the new money from the Leduc gusher and there were still living people who had known Edwards MacEwan ferreted out their stories as only he could do combined the interviews with hard research and the result is Grant MacEwan's best book by a country mile Eye Opener Bob can be enjoyed on its own or as a companion piece to the new compilation of Edwards's writing Irresponsible Freaks Highball Guzzlers and Unabashed Grafters A Bob Edwards Chrestomathy Leading Student Assessment Charles F. Webber, Judy L. Lupart, 2011-09-18 This book presents a new and refreshing look at student assessment from the perspective of leading educational theorists researchers and practitioners The authors call for boundary breaking assessment that reflects clear understandings of the purposes of assessment a balance of assessment creativity and realism the ability to detect solutions for assessment challenges and the capacity to question and imagine assessment alternatives The 14 chapters offer school and district educators policy makers researchers and university teacher preparation faculty with a comprehensive current overview of the state and art of student assessment Key questions are posed about assessment and critical challenges are presented along with sound evidence based solutions Student assessment is analyzed in terms of its relationship with classroom instructional practices and large scale testing programs Formative and summative assessments are compared and contrasted The role of psychological assessment in informing classroom practices is profiled along with the need for student voice in fair assessment practices Readers will be challenged to consider the ecology of student assessment that is the impact of assessment in classrooms and schools through to the macro level of globalized societies The underpinning values and assumptions of student assessment are highlighted Finally a rationale is offered for reconceptualizing and redefining assessment
