Alexandra Township Dark City One 1:

Union Voices Glenn Adler, Doris Suarez, 1993-01-01 The contributors to this book are labor activists reflecting on their direct experiences and their union's efforts to address the serious problems facing them in a rapidly changing political and economic environment. The authors discuss new forms of international competition, corporate restructuring, technological innovation, and the anti-labor policies and prejudices of recent national administrations have undermined union strength and influence reflected in steeply declining membership and the erosion of workers' rights and living standards. The book is anchored in the reality of workers' day-to-day struggles. Union Voices focuses on three central issues which confront all workers and unions: first, changing technology and work organization especially its effect on health and safety and worker displacement and union responses to the new workplace; second, the impact of the changing economy on workforce composition and the problem of responding to the needs of new work constituencies especially among women and new immigrant groups; and third, the question of developing new union practices especially to promote alliances between unions and other social movements both nationally and internationally.

Doing Critical Literacy Hilary Janks, Kerry Dixon, Ana Ferreira, Stella Granville, Denise Newfield, 2013-07-18 Compelling and highly engaging this text shows teachers at all levels how to do critical literacy in the classroom and provides models for practice that can be adapted to any context. Integrating social theory and classroom practice it brings critical literacy to life as a socio-cultural orientation to the teaching of literacy that takes seriously the relationship between language and power and orients readers to the social effects of texts. Students and teachers are drawn into the key questions critical readers need to pose of texts: Whose interests are served? Who benefits? Who is disadvantaged? Who is included and who is excluded? The practical activities help readers grasp complex issues. Extending the theoretical framework in Hilary Janks' Literacy and Power with a rich range of completely new up-to-date activities that translate theory into practice Doing Critical Literacy is powerful, relevant, and useful for both pre- and in-service teacher education and for use in schools.

South African urban imaginaries: cases from Johannesburg Richard Ballard, Sandiswa Mapukata, 2022-06-01 How do government officials, elected politicians, powerful economic actors, and ordinary people think and talk about the urban geography of South Africa? How do they describe and represent change that is happening in cities, towns, and villages? Do they consider these changes to be good or bad? How do they think such places should change? What do they do to try to bring about the changes they desire? Competing answers to these questions have been at the centre of South Africa's urban development. Through the 19th and 20th centuries, white minority governments straddled quite contradictory imaginaries about who could build lives for themselves in urban areas and on what terms. Ordinary people held their own urban imaginaries that were quite different to those of white minority governments and were core to the fight for democracy. In the democratic era, a range of official and popular imaginaries offer diverse visions on how South Africans should be transformed. In an earlier collection produced under the GCRO Spatial Imaginaries project we explored the sometimes contradictory nature of post apartheid urban visions with for example with some promoting the creation of new urban settlements on greenfield sites and others attempting to densify and diversify long urbanised spaces

Research Report 13 South African urban imaginaries Cases from Johannesburg is a second edited collection under the Spatial Imaginaries project and it uses a series of cases from Johannesburg that illustrate the interactions between urban imaginaries and the material city These cases include the depiction of central business districts in film as spaces of aspiration the way in which the imaginaries of developers in Hillbrow were shaped by the lives of those living there the imaginaries of Alexandra Renewal Project practitioners the way in which residents of Brixton understand diversity and the construction of two new bridges across the M1 to better connect Sandton and Alexandra Alexandra, from "freehold" to "model" Township Mike Sarakinsky, 1987

Census of population and housing (2000): North Dakota Summary Population and Housing Characteristics , Cassell's Dictionary of Slang Jonathon Green, 2005 With its unparalleled coverage of English slang of all types from 18th century cant to contemporary gay slang and its uncluttered editorial apparatus Cassell's Dictionary of Slang was warmly received when its first edition appeared in 1998 Brilliant said Mark Lawson on BBC2's The Late Review This is a terrific piece of work learned entertaining funny stimulating said Jonathan Meades in The Evening Standard But now the world's best single volume dictionary of English slang is about to get even better Jonathon Green has spent the last seven years on a vast project to research in depth the English slang vocabulary and to hunt down and record written instances of the use of as many slang words as possible This has entailed trawling through more than 4000 books plus song lyrics TV and movie scripts and many newspapers and magazines for relevant material The research has thrown up some fascinating results

AF Press Clips , 1988-07 Alexandra Noor Nieftagodien, Phil Bonner, 2008-11-01 Alexandra A History is a social and political history of one of South Africa's oldest townships It begins with the founding of Alexandra as a freehold township in 1912 and traces its growth as a centre of black working class life through the early years before the Nationalist government through the struggles of the apartheid era and into the present day Declared as a location for natives and coloureds Alexandra became home to a diverse population where stand owners tenants squatters hostel dwellers workers and migrants from every corner of the country converged to make a new life for themselves near the economic hub of Johannesburg The stories of ordinary people are at the core of the township's history Based on numerous life history interviews with residents and previously unexamined archive sources the book portrays in vivid detail the daily struggles and tribulations of the people of Alexandra A significant focus is the rich history of political resistance in which political organisations and civic movements organised bus boycotts anti removal and anti pass campaigns and mobilised for housing and a better life for the township's residents But the book also tells the stories of daily life of the making of urban cultures and of the infamous Spoilers and Msomi gangs Over weekends Alexandra came alive as soccer matches church services and shebeens vie for the attention of residents Alexandra A History highlights the social complexities of the township which at times caused tension between different segments of the population Above all else despite a long history of hardship and adversity the community spirit of the people of Alexandra expressed in a fiercely loyal love of their township home has repeatedly triumphed and endured

Claiming the City in South African Literature Meg Samuelson,2021-08-23 This book demonstrates the insights that literature brings to transdisciplinary urban studies and particularly to the study of cities of the South Starting from the claim staked by mining capital in the late nineteenth century and its production of extractive and segregated cities it surveys over a century of writing in search of counterclaims through which the literature reimagines the city as a place of assembly and attachment Focusing on how the South African city has been designed to funnel gold into the global economy and to service an enclaved minority the study looks to the literary city to advance a contrary emphasis on community conviviality and care An accessible and informative introduction to literature of the South African city at significant historical junctures this book will also be of great interest to scholars and students in urban studies and Global South studies

Mandela Martin Meredith,2010-03-30 Nelson Mandela stands out as one of the most admired political figures of the twentieth century It was his leadership and moral courage above all that helped to deliver a peaceful end to apartheid in South Africa after years of racial division and violence and to establish a fledgling democracy there Martin Meredith s vivid portrayal of this towering leader was originally acclaimed as an exemplary work of biography instructive illuminating as well as felicitously written Kirkus Reviews providing new insights on the man and his time Washington Post Now Meredith has revisited and significantly updated his biography to incorporate a decade of additional perspective and hindsight on the man and his legacy and to examine how far his hopes for the new South Africa have been realized Published as South Africa celebrates 100 years since its founding and hosts the 2010 World Cup Nelson Mandela is the most thorough and up to date account available of the life of its most revered hero

Confronting Fragmentation Philip Harrison,2003 The fragmentation of South Africa s cities persists despite the ending of apartheid New forms of segregation are emerging in the context of globalisation and a largely neo liberal policy environment This poses an enormous challenge for policy making planning and community activism Although there has been an improvement in service infrastructure in certain parts of South African cities since 1994 the major structural changes required to alter the trajectory of urban change have not yet happened This book provides a provocative careful analytical perspective on the problems of fragmentation with particular reference to the provision of urban shelter The cross national nature of the author team reflects the fact that many of the issues facing South African cities are being experienced globally This is a fascinating book The text is both theoretical and practical It will be of great value to policy makers planners community leaders and students in the field of development and the built environment

Studies in Segregation and Desegregation Wim Ostendorf,2019-06-14 This title was first published in 2002 Over the past fifty years numerous geographical concepts and methodologies have been developed to study urban segregation This volume brings together an international team of scholars practitioners and policy makers to examine the latest of these The first section of this fascinating book sees contributors proposing innovative ideas and new conceptual models for the study of segregation in cities that undergo globalization They assess the idea that segregation should be studied for individuals in respect to different spatial resolutions including the study of the formation of inter ethnic spatial networks This is followed by an examination of questions concerning the associations among segregation poverty and policies The final section highlights patterns of segregation in four countries South Africa China Canada and the Ruhr area each of them representing different multicultural and transformational aspects They also emphasize the socio historical context in which patterns of segregation and desegregation appeared

Emerging Johannesburg Richard Tomlinson, Robert Beauregard, Lindsay Bremmer, Xolela Mangcu, 2014-02-04 Johannesburg is most often compared with Sao Paulo and Los Angeles and sometimes even with Budapest Calcutta and Jerusalem Johannesburg reflects and informs conditions in cities around the world As might be expected from such comparisons South Africa's political transformation has not led to redistribution and inclusive social change in Johannesburg In Emerging Johannesburg the contributors describe the city's transition from a post apartheid city to one with all too familiar issues such as urban suburban divide in the city and its relationship to poverty and socio political power local politics and governance crime and violence and especially for a city located in Southern Africa the devastating impact of AIDS

Explorations in African History Veit Arlt, Stephannie Bishop, Pascal Schmid, 2015-07-01 This collection of essays documents the growth of African history as a discipline at the University of Basel since 2001 It thus pays tribute to fourteen years of research and teaching by Patrick Harries at the Department of History and the Centre for African Studies Basel The Festschrift covers a broad range of topics from mine labour to missionary endeavour and the production of knowledge reflecting some of his core research interests The contributions engage with Patrick Harries oeuvre with reference to the authors own scholarship or vice versa Some directly address his publications while others take his teaching correspondence remarks or intellectual life more broadly as a point of reference They all pay tribute to a brilliant and inspiring scholar a great teacher and a kind person

Cities in Flux Olivier Moreillon, Alan Muller, Lindy Stiebel, 2017 The essays in this volume all circle around questions of urbanisation in post apartheid South Africa and its effects on the country's socio political realities as well as its representation in and effect on the country's literary and artistic production The included essays discuss the constant flow of people not only into within and out of a city but also between different cities the continuously changing conditions both physical and immaterial as well as past and present of South Africa's urban areas and these shifting conditions effects on South Africa's cities Series Swiss African Studies Schweizerische Afrikastudien Etudes africaines suisses Vol 12 Subject African Studies Urban Studies Sociology

Black Consciousness and South Africa's National Literature Tom Penfold, 2017-10-14 This book analyses Black Consciousness poetry and theatre from the 1970s through to the present South Africa's literature like its history has been beset by disagreement and contradiction and has been consistently difficult to pin down as one united entity Much existing criticism on South Africa's national literature has attempted to overcome these divisions by discussing material written from a variety of different subject positions together This book argues that Black Consciousness desired a new South Africa where African and European cultures were valued equally and writers could represent both as they wished Thus a body of literature was created that addressed a range of audiences and imagined the South African nation in different ways This book explores Black Consciousness in order to demonstrate how South African writers have responded in various ways to the changing history and politics of their country
