Gendering the Hadith Tradition Sofia Rehman,2024-01-23 Gendering the ad th Tradition presents for the first time a partial translation and study of Imam Badr al Din al Zarkashi s work al Ijaba li Iradi ma Istadraktahu Aisha Ala al Sahabah The Corrective Aisha s Rectification of the Companions It critically analyses from the perspective of hadith criticism a number of sections presenting Aisha s refutations and corrections of key Companions including Umar b al Khattab Abdullah b Abbas Zayd b Thabit and Abu Hurayra applying classical hadith methodology to the scrutiny of narrators by way of impugment and validation al jarh wa al tadil in an effort to re construct and re present Aisha as a central authority in Islamic knowledge production This work constitutes a major rethinking of the Muslim hadith and jurisprudential traditions by evaluating how Aisha responded to hadiths that were circulating and being ascribed often incorrectly as authoritative statements of the Prophet Muhammad From her critique of overwhelmingly male Companions of the Prophet the study elicits a methodology for hadith criticism which is sure to challenge classical approaches Sofia Rehman unearths the scholarly acumen of this great female Companion and mother of the believers in her discussion of several legal positions which Aisha held in contradistinction to many of the male authorities among the Companions This interdisciplinary study serves as a model for how the voice of Aisha may be given renewed life and significance in the way it re centres her traditions and thinking A crucial aspect is its contributing to expanding the horizons of multiple Islamic disciplines A major contribution to the study of hadith lies in the development of an emergent methodology of Aisha in the scrutiny of the actual statements matn of traditions not just the chains of transmission isnad The contributions of this study to the development of the Muslim legal tradition fiqh also lies in a framework that emerges from this research based on the pattern of how Aisha approaches juridical matters The implications for this are many especially regarding women and their spiritual and daily life and practice

Islam in Africa in comparison to Islam in the Middle East and the Arab world Shirin Edwin points to the tight embrace between Islam and politics that has rendered Islamic feminist discourse historically and thematically contextualized in regions where Islamic feminism evolves in tandem with the nation state and is commonly understood in terms of activism social affiliations or struggles for legal reform In Africa itself Islam bears the burden of being a foreign presence that is considered injurious to African Muslim women s success Edwin examines the fictional works of the northern Nigerian novelists Zaynab Alkali Abubakar Gimba and Hauwa Ali due to the texts emphases on personal and private engagement Islamic ritual and prayer in the quotidian and observance of Qur anic injunctions Analysis of these texts connects the ways in which Muslim women in northern Nigeria balance their spiritual habits in ever changing configurations of their personal and private domains The spiritual universe of African Muslim women may be one where Islam is not the source of their problems or their legislative and political activity but a spiritual activity that can exist devoid of activist or political forms

Ethics Aryn Sajoo, 2012-05-15 I B Tauris in association with the Institute of Ismaili Studies Socrates famously said that the unexamined life is not worth living In keeping with this dictum taking ethics seriously means engaging with the real world where the human sense of right and wrong is daily tested At their best all faith traditions are challenged by such testing and if faith inspired ethics are thought to govern the whole of life their guiding values need constantly to be interpreted by the believer to achieve a practical result In the Muslim tradition this is what the Qur'an really amounts to a call to strive for belief with a social conscience For fourteen centuries Muslim scholars have grappled with the implications of that call in matters of law social practice and theology And in our own time the quests for civil society and the rule of law have much to do with the response given to these ethical questions A Companion to Muslim Ethics explores Islam's core conception of the good shared with other great traditions Leading experts examine issues such as gender equality nonviolence dispute resolution the environment health and finance The volume will appeal to all those interested in how reason faith and circumstance shape difficult moral choices in an increasingly globalised world Beyond Sunni and Shia Frederic Wehrey, 2018-02-01 This collection seeks to advance our understanding of intra Islamic identity conflict during a period of upheaval in the Middle East Instead of treating distinctions between and within Sunni and Shia Islam as primordial and immutable it examines how political economy geopolitics domestic governance social media non and sub state groups and clerical elites have affected the transformation and diffusion of sectarian identities Particular attention is paid to how conflicts over distribution of political and economic power have taken on a sectarian quality and how a variety of actors have instrumentalized sectarianism The volume covering Syria Iraq Lebanon Saudi Arabia and the Gulf Iran and Egypt includes contributors from a broad array of disciplines including political science history sociology and Islamic studies Beyond Sunni and Shia draws on extensive fieldwork and primary sources to offer insights that are empirically rich and theoretically grounded but also accessible for policy audiences and the informed public The Origins of Islamic Law Yasin

Dutton,2013-09-05 If the Qur'an is the first written formulation of Islam in general Malik's Muwatta' is arguably the first written formulation of the Islam in practice that becomes Islamic law This book considers the methods used by Malik in the Muwatta' to derive the judgements of the law from the Qur'an and is thus concerned on one level with the finer details of Qur'anic interpretation However since any discussion of the Qur'an in this context must also include considerations of the other main source of Islamic law namely the sunna or normative practice of the Prophet this latter concept especially its relationship to the terms of hadith and amal traditions and living tradition also receives considerable attention and in many respects this book is more about the history and development of Islamic law than it is about the science of Qur'anic interpretation This is the first book to question the hitherto accepted frameworks of both the classical Muslim view and the current revisionist western view on the development of Islamic law It is also the first study in a European language to deal specifically with the early development of the Madinan later Malik school of jurisprudence as it is also the first to demonstrate in detail the various methods used both linguistic and otherwise in interpreting the legal verses of the Qur'an It will be of interest to all those interested in the underlying bases of Islamic law and culture and of particular interest to those involved in studying and teaching Islamic studies both at undergraduate and research level It will also be of interest to those studying the relationship between orality and literacy in ancient societies and the writing down of ancient law

Original Islam Yasin Dutton, 2007 Original Islam investigates the primacy of Madinan Islam and the madhhab school of law of its main exponent Malik ibn Anas. It contains an annotated translation of Intisar al faqir al salik li tarjih madhhab al Imam al kabir Malik which was written by al Ra i a fifteenth century Andalusian scholar resident in Cairo. This book includes a comprehensive section on the scholarly credentials of the great eighth century Madinan jurist Malik ibn Anas, a detailed examination of a number of theoretical and practical disputed legal issues, examples of the inter madhhab rivalry and prejudice prevalent in fifteenth century Cairo, an extensive introduction giving background information on al Ra i and his life and times. It also highlights the significance of the text for contemporary Muslim discourse in which both modernist and fundamentalist elements often equate the concept of madhhab with an outmoded tradition which must be rejected as irrelevant to the practice of Islam in a globalized world. This book aims to put this ongoing controversy about madhhab, particularly the Maliki madhhab and its pre madhhab Madinan origins, on a surer footing. Original Islam provides access to a hitherto little known area of Islamic law and is essential reading for those with interests in this area.

This book explains Islam in its complexity. The author also addresses current topics: Islam in the West, women's issues and Jihad. It can be read without knowing Arabic. However, the author provides the fully vocalised Arabic source in addition to the English translation which may be beneficial for Arabic speaking readers.
