Ouedraogo,Ebrima Sall,2008-09-15 This book seeks to explain the events that have been taking place in C te d Ivoire since 1999 and which are commonly referred to as la crise ivoirienne the Ivorian crisis It seems that the day to day interpretation of the events did not provide a satisfactory explanation of the deep fracture and that it was necessary to reconsider the essentialist theoretical categories that are striving to impose on us a false view made cumbersome by ethnocentric prejudices To avoid falling into the trap of the day to day interpretation of events will require an in depth questioning of the causes of the foreseen collapse of the Ivorian model Having a grasp on the historical meaning of facts is required in examining the sequence and interconnection of events which we always need to rule on the historical weight in order to gauge the tragic trend of the social dynamics While looking for the causes of the social and political rift the authors of this volume started by asking a central question How does the weight of the modern Ivorian society formation intervene in the modalities of the actions of individuals and current collectivities The brutal and violent fracture which the Ivorian social formation underwent brings forth once again the issue of collective identities and unveils at the same time the challenges related to the incomplete nature of the construction of Nation States in Africa In fact it is a mistake to think that the crisis spontaneously started among partisan higher authorities and to ignore that behind the ostentatious declarations on National Unity pre colonial groups have not completely melted into the modern Nation Furthermore in the process of national social space formation new social combinations emerge by continuously re inventing themselves It seems that the roots of current crises reside in the unprecedented transformation which contemporary African societies have been undergoing Jeune Afrique subsaharienne Marc Bonhomme,Alpha Ousmane Barry,Béatrice Fleury,Jacques Walter,2015 Depuis une vingtaine d'années les médias donnent voir de profondes transformations sur le continent africain Celles-ci tiennent des facteurs politiques avec la libération de l'information jusqu'à sous contrainte. Elles résultent aussi de facteurs techniques liés à l'expansion progressive des médias électroniques dans l'ensemble des pays d'Afrique. Prolongeant un colloque international qui s'est tenu à Berne et réunissant les textes de 27 chercheurs portant sur 13 pays du Maghreb et de l'Afrique subsaharienne, le présent volume met en évidence les principales mutations affectant les médias africains qu'ils soient classiques (presse écrite, radio, télévision) ou numériques (internet, réseaux sociaux). Indissociables de leur contexte socioculturel, de telles mutations concernent les formes discursives des médias considérées comme hybrides sur le plan linguistique (genre, genre média), originaux et l'émergence d'une communication de proximité qui tranche avec la tenue académique des médias africains traditionnels. Ce volume analyse également les mutations médiatiques du paysage africain en relation avec ses récents développements sociaux et politiques. En particulier, il montre comment on assiste à une gestion croissante de l'information par les différents publics africains. De même, il valorise les rapports complexes entre le nouvel espace médiatique et les processus démocratiques qui se sont imposés en Afrique. Les médias y fonctionnent ils vraiment comme des contre-pouvoirs ? Comment produisent-ils une parole militante et mobilisatrice, notamment lors des révoltes en cours au Maghreb ? traversant la diversité de leurs approches, le présent ouvrage atteste de l'interconnexion entre le cadre de production des médias africains et leur contenu informatif et la substance de leurs discours. Mobilisant des linguistes, des politologues et des spécialistes en sciences de la communication, il se veut une illustration du bon usage de la transdisciplinarité dans le domaine médiatique.
