Bibliografía peruana ,2000 La Contaminación Ambiental en México Blanca Elena Jiménez,2001 Libro que ejemplifica con datos y resultados los problemas de contaminación en sus tres grandes categorías aire agua y suelo Desde una perspectiva teórica y metodológica se analizan aspectos que se encuentran relacionados con las causas y consecuencias del deterioro ambiental en México También se aborda la relación de los combustibles fósiles y su impacto al medio ambiente así como la manera de prevenir los efectos negativos originados por la contaminación Editor Water Resources in Mexico Úrsula Oswald Spring,2011-08-26 Water resources in Mexico are threatened by scarcity pollution and climate change In two decades water consumption doubled producing water stress in dry seasons and semi arid and arid regions Water stress rises due to physical and economic stress In seven parts a multidisciplinary team analyzes hydrological processes in basins and their interaction with climate soil and biota Competing water use in agriculture industry and domestic needs require savings decontamination processes and desalination to satisfy the growing demand Water quality affects health and ecosystems This creates conflicts and cooperation that may be enhanced by public policy institution building and social organization

Potabilización del agua Juan Pablo Rodríguez,2024-02-02 Las preocupaciones por la preservación y conservación del recurso hídrico como activo ambiental valioso lo establecen como un elemento ecológico y ambiental esencial para la vida en este planeta La sensación de la escasez y el estrés hídrico conllevan a un análisis del manejo adecuado del mismo y a mantener la congruencia con este En términos de oferta y demanda hoy por hoy se considera que el agua es un recurso enteramente precioso que por el temor de la escasez y la contaminación deber negociarse en las grandes bolsas internacionales de acciones por ello ante la gran demanda de agua en condiciones de continuidad acceso equidad y calidad del servicio se establece que la potabilización del agua gana terreno por la oportunidad de conocer apropiarse y entender las diversas posibilidades para obtener agua potable apta para el consumo humano Criterios de diseño para la gestión del agua de lluvia en microcuenca La Rucia, Tonalá Laura Becerril,2024-11-13 El manejo del agua urbana presenta desafíos significativos desde la intervención en espacios naturales para el crecimiento de la ciudad Esta intervención genera la necesidad de construir redes de desalaje que trasladan problemas a cuerpos de agua naturales exacerbando la insostenibilidad debido al aumento en la demanda hídrica Se plantean preguntas sobre el origen uso y destino del agua en la cuenca así como los criterios para articular su manejo con un desarrollo urbano sustentable La gestión del agua de lluvia debe tomar en cuenta aspectos sociales ambientales económicos y tecnológicos promoviendo su revalorización en el territorio Se sugiere una integración de criterios que permita un enfoque multidisciplinario donde los sistemas urbanos de drenaje sustentable SUDS se conviertan en herramientas clave para incorporar espacios naturales en el paisaje urbano fomentando la participación comunitaria la recarga de acuíferos y la reducción de riesgos de inundaciones El libro busca ofrecer criterios de diseño urbano que articulen el manejo del agua de lluvia con planes de desarrollo destacando la importancia de comprender el funcionamiento de la cuenca y su interacción con la urbanización Se estructura en cuatro capítulos que abordan el crecimiento urbano el marco legal el diagnóstico de la microcuenca y propuestas de diseño para integrar la infraestructura urbana con el manejo del agua Se concluye con una síntesis de hallazgos y oportunidades para una gestión eficiente del agua y el territorio

Advances in building engineering research Manuel Álvarez Dorado, Daniel Ferrández Vega, Alejandra Vidales Barriguete, 2024-03 The book ADVANCES IN BUILDING ENGINEERING RESEARCH has been conceived as a result of the efforts of some of the most relevant researchers in the field of building engineering at a national level The work well structured and composed of original research shows through a didactic approach the current lines of work in which the construction sector in Spain is developing Nowadays nobody doubts that we are immersed in a process of change and technological innovation that fully affects the industry and the construction sector is no stranger to it Advances in technology and its application to everyday life the excessive consumption of natural resources and the need to apply circular economy strategies or the development of new sustainable construction materials are some of the issues addressed in this book Thus in line with European guidelines and the Sustainable Development Goals set out in the 2030 Agenda the European Union has established a roadmap that promotes responsible economic growth It is for this reason that it is essential to address new ways of conceiving building in our country and for this reason it has been essential to have various collaborators from renowned Universities and Research Centres that have wanted to be part of this work Undoubtedly all the original research presented here deals with the process of innovation in building and is linked to the common paradigm of sustainability However despite the complexity of some of the topics covered in this compendium the authors have tried to unify the criteria of academic rigour and agile and accessible presentation For this reason it is understood that this book is suitable both for doctoral students and researchers as well as for people interested in popularising science with a basic training This is perhaps the strong point of this work which has been polished as a result of the criticisms received from all those colleagues who have been kind enough to read the final document and help to improve it We would also like to thank all the authors who have responded to our call and have kindly contributed their excellent research to the creation of this book The works that make up the different Chapters have been selected through a blind peer review process and are the result of the wide ranging concerns and issues that are of concern to building professionals in the year 2024 Last but not least we would like to thank the Department of Building Technology and especially its Director Mr Carlos Morán Fernández for giving us the opportunity to carry out this initiative by providing us with the necessary means We hope with all our intention to make known the research work that is being carried out in the field of building with a firm commitment to technological innovation and sustainable development

Mexico Elena María Otazo-Sánchez, Amado Enrique Navarro-Frómata, Vijay P. Singh, 2019-09-28 This book presents several complex case studies related to water management and planning in the context of pollution growing demands and global climate change in Mexico but which are also relevant for other countries in Latin America These concerns are of critical importance for policymakers who are coping with multiple conflicting interests Water availability in Mexico is polarized with abundant rainfall and large rivers in the south and desert like conditions in the north The central region which is the most industrialized is overpopulated Mexico City pours millions of cubic meters of blackwater into the northern valley daily and receives its clean water from the south To address these unsustainable conditions the world's 4th biggest water treatment plant went into operation in 2018 The water infrastructure and governance must satisfy the demands of all sectors including agricultural urban and economic activities At the same time water resources are affected by drought and climate change puts constraints on the supply As such regulation and monitoring are important when it comes to adherence to agreed plans and priorities The book is divided into four sections 1 Water Availability discusses quantitative aspects such as supply methods of calculation and fracking 2 Water Quality highlights pollution risks and diagnosis of water resources 3 Water Allocation examines the sectoral demands and vulnerability due to unsustainable irrigation 4 Water Governance and Management focuses on laws urban rules national parks planning and integrated water resources management among other topics The chapters include illustrative case studies in Mexico such as basins cities reservoirs and aquifers water supply demand assessment planning and management
