Adventures in the Spirit Philip Clayton, In Adventures in the Spirit respected and influential theologian Philip Clayton argues that two major intellectual movements of our day panentheism and emergence are converging and that together they offer exciting new vistas for theological reflection On the one hand over the last decades many theologians have been re-conceiving the God world relation panentheistically affirming a radical indwelling of God within the world and the world within God On the other hand scientists have begun to abandon the reductionist ideology that characterized much of the modern period with a new emphasis on emergence Their study of how new novel structures and entities arise throughout the evolutionary process yields a much more open ended holistic vision of reality Clayton argues Adventures of the Spirit Phyllis Sternberg Perrakis, 2007 In Adventures of the Spirit Phyllis Sternberg Perrakis brings together eleven American and Canadian literary gerontologists to examine a new kind of adventure for the older woman in literature This volume of critical essays analyzes recent works by contemporary women writers whose characters midlife and later life changes are mapped in their narratives Rather than focusing on the painful losses undergone by women of a certain age recent narratives explore a new kind of adventure of aging one that is spiritual in nature enabling new ways of being and becoming but open ended and capable of great variation in practice In particular these journeys of the spirit focus on the retrospective movement undergone by a midlife or older woman as she is led by inner or outer forces to assess where she has come from and decipher a shape or pattern to her journey These journeys do not leave the body behind as they map new spiritual territory Rather they honor spirit's embrace of the natural world and relationships as well as its aspirations for evolving development and eternal existence The essays in Adventures of the Spirit employ a wide variety of critical lenses to chart these adventures including archetypal Sufi post colonial and feminist analysis archival research aboriginal life writing and trauma theory These studies bring a new understanding to women's adventure of age in both literary texts and in life Adventure of Spirit , Adventures with the Holy Spirit Phillip Halverson, 1982 Adventures in Spiritual Warfare William P.
