HONG KONG DIPLOMA OF SECONDARY EDUCATION EXAMINATION 2013

ECONOMICS PAPER 1

8.30 am – 9.30 am (1 hour)

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Read carefully the instructions on the Answer Sheet. After the announcement of the start of the examination, you should first stick a barcode label and insert the information required in the spaces provided. No extra time will be given for sticking on the barcode label after the 'Time is up' announcement.
2. When told to open this book, you should check that all the questions are there. Look for the words 'END OF PAPER' after the last question.
3. All questions carry equal marks.
4. ANSWER ALL QUESTIONS. You are advised to use an HB pencil to mark all the answers on the Answer Sheet, so that wrong marks can be completely erased with a clean rubber. You must mark the answers clearly; otherwise you will lose marks if the answers cannot be captured.
5. You should mark only ONE answer for each question. If you mark more than one answer, you will receive NO MARKS for that question.
6. No marks will be deducted for wrong answers.

Not to be taken away before the end of the examination session

This volume explores the politics of identity by analysing the intersections between ethnicity gender and nationalism in developing societies These markers of identity are not understood as constituting essences but as springing from people s core experiences yearnings and strategic life plans in a context where resources are scarce As such identities may be and are contested The intersections are traced across three areas social and cultural reproduction ideologies stereotypes and practices and nationalist politics and discourse which has tended to remove women from the public arena and construct an ideal of women s domesticity Marine Navigation and Safety of Sea Transportation Adam Weintrit,Tomasz

that is concerned with the relationship between globalisation and social security The aim of this work is first to clarify the impact of the globalisation process on social security systems and second to formulate substantive and technical proposals for the adaptation of existing social security schemes to an altered socio economic context and for the elaboration of international legal instruments aimed at an effective substantive and procedural protection of social security as a fundamental right The report is divided into three parts The first part is concerned with the social impact of globalisation and its consequences for social security systems in the high income economies The first article of this section considers the nature of globalisation as well as its social impact It spells out some fundamental challenges facing social security systems The following article elaborates further on one specific challenge that is the need for social security to adapt to the increased territorial mobility of workers The second part looks at the effects of globalisation on social security in relation to middle and low income countries and examines the extent to which existing arrangements in these countries are able to provide adequate income protection to the majority of the population For the group of middle income countries the relevance of globalisation for the privatisation of pension systems is analysed as well as the consequences with respect to their main social functions i e the provision of old age income security and income redistribution This is done so through a comparative analysis of Latin American countries that have implemented pension policy reform The following two articles consider the experience of social security systems in low income countries In the first article the impact and challenges of globalisation for existing formal and informal social security arrangements in low income countries are explored and options are suggested for alternative approaches to social security provision that are better suited to the circumstances of low income countries The arguments have been illustrated with evidence from Cote d'Ivoire a country with a socio economic situation and social security framework that is typical for the majority of low income countries The second article discusses in greater depth the link between informal economic and social security in Sub Saharan Africa Finally the third part calls for a global approach to social security To this end the first article in this section outlines a possible strategy for a generalised social protection at the global level based on the human damage theory while the last chapter of this work is concerned with the international legal instruments most appropriate for a better substantive and procedural protection of social security as a basic human right

Fairness and Justice in Environmental Decision Making Catherine Gross, 2014-01-10 By crossing disciplinary boundaries this book uniquely connects theories of justice with people's lived experience within social conflicts over resource sharing It shows why some conflicts such as local opposition to wind farms and water disputes have become intractable social problems in many countries of the world It shows the power of injustice in generating opposition to decisions The book answers the question why are the results of many government initiatives and policies not accepted by those affected Focusing on two social conflicts over water sharing in Australia to show why fairness and justice are important in decision making the book shows how these conflicts are typical of water sharing and other natural resource conflicts experienced in many countries around the world particularly in the context of climate change It tells the stories of these conflicts from the perspectives of those involved These practically based findings are then related back to ideas and constructs of justice from disciplines such as social psychology political philosophy and jurisprudence With a strong practical focus this book offers readers an opportunity to develop a deep understanding of fairness and justice in environmental decision making It opens up a wealth of fairness and justice ideas for decision makers practitioners and researchers in natural resource management environmental governance community consultation and sustainable development as well as people in government and corporations who interface and consult with communities where natural resources are being used
