World Economic Outlook, April 2019 International Monetary Fund. Research Dept., 2019-04-09 After strong growth in 2017 and early 2018 global economic activity slowed notably in the second half of last year reflecting a confluence of factors affecting major economies China's growth declined following a combination of needed regulatory tightening to rein in shadow banking and an increase in trade tensions with the United States The euro area economy lost more momentum than expected as consumer and business confidence weakened and car production in Germany was disrupted by the introduction of new emission standards investment dropped in Italy as sovereign spreads widened and external demand especially from emerging Asia softened Elsewhere natural disasters hurt activity in Japan Trade tensions increasingly took a toll on business confidence and so financial market sentiment worsened with financial conditions tightening for vulnerable emerging markets in the spring of 2018 and then in advanced economies later in the year weighing on global demand Conditions have eased in 2019 as the US Federal Reserve signaled a more accommodative monetary policy stance and markets became more optimistic about a US China trade deal but they remain slightly more restrictive than in the fall

Post-Keynesian Theories of the Firm Nobantu L. Mbeki, 2023-04-07 Within Post Keynesian economics there is a spectrum of approaches to theories of the firm but what they have in common to their great benefit is a proper integration of the concept of radical uncertainty data that cannot be known This book revisits Kalecki's theory of the firm is located to show that it constitutes fertile theoretical ground on which to systematically understand the resultant indeterminacy when firms operate under conditions of radical uncertainty The author proposes a way of generalising radical uncertainty by integrating some of the separate approaches within Post Keynesian economics centred around Kalecki's work Through this it is shown that radical uncertainty does more than just change the ultimate motivation of firms dropping short run profit maximisation more complex motivation interconnectivity with the environment it is central to the emergence existence and motivation of firms and critically also firm strategy It is argued that firms do not simply respond to uncertainty it is the systematic cause of their intentional behaviour Through developing these arguments the book also contributes to the methodology of Kalecki and Shackle as well as Kaleckian price theory This book will be important reading for anyone interested in theories of the firm Post Keynesian economics and heterodox approaches to economics more broadly Made in Africa Arkebe Oqubay,2015 A book on the design and practice of industrial policy that explores the challenges faced by African firms in international markets with primary research data and policy experience from three Ethiopian case studies
