

CHAPTER 5 - USE OF FIREARMS

1. INTRODUCTION

- 1.1 This chapter provides an overview of the Police Service's use of firearms and the tactics, training and different capabilities involved, as well as individual officers' responsibilities in accordance with the law.

2. CIRCUMSTANCES WHEN WEAPONS MAY BE FIRED

- 2.1 Firearms may be fired by AFOs in the course of their duty only when absolutely necessary after traditional methods have been tried and failed or must, from the nature of the circumstances, be unlikely to succeed if tried.
- 2.2 Police should not normally fire warning shots. There are serious risks associated with the firing of such shots, which have the potential to cause unintentional death or injury. They may also lead a subject or other officer to believe that they are under fire. (Warning shots are not permitted in Scotland)
- 2.3 An officer will only be justified in resorting to the discharge of a warning shot(s) in the most serious and exceptional of circumstances, where failure to do so would result in the loss of life or serious injury. Police officers who discharge a firearm under any circumstances must give full consideration to public safety.
- 2.4 The test of using 'force which is no more than absolutely necessary' as set out in Article 2 (2) of the European Convention on Human Rights, should be applied in relation to the operational discharge of any weapon.

3. INDIVIDUAL OFFICER'S RESPONSIBILITY

- 3.1 The ultimate responsibility for firing a weapon rests with the individual officer, who is answerable ultimately to the law in the courts. Individual officers are accountable and responsible for all rounds they fire and must be in a position to justify them in the light of their legal responsibilities and powers. Any discharge of a weapon other than in training, whether intentional or otherwise, must be reported by the officer concerned. The pointing of a firearm at any person may constitute an assault and must also be reported and recorded.

4. ORAL WARNING

- 4.1 AFOs shall identify themselves as such and shall give a clear warning of their intent to use firearms, with sufficient time for the warnings to be observed, unless to do so would unduly place any person at a risk of death or serious harm, or it would be clearly inappropriate or pointless in the circumstances of the incident.

5. AUTHORITY TO FIRE

- 5.1 A Gold or Silver Commander can authorise when shots MAY be fired but such authorisation will not exempt an individual from their responsibility. No general rule can be laid down and much will depend on the circumstances of individual incidents.
