

A poem

By Kas Serena

Soil

I am the dirt beneath your feet
I need the sun to give me heat
I need the water when it rains
Because I am the soil on the plains.
You stomp and you run
You laugh and you have fun
But please, kids, I beg you
I have feelings too.

I am the thing that grows your plants
I am the habitat for little ants
I am the stalker outside your house
I am the one that supplies your spouse.
For I am the one that loves compost and I am the one that wants it most
But you'd rather just throw it away
Just sit and watch it decay.

So please, kids, I have feelings too.
I'd rather feel brown than blue.

Acrostic Poetry About Soil:

A Blemished Perfection Yair Hoffman,1996-03-01 The main methodological thesis of this study is that the book of Job more than any other book in the Bible should be treated as an artistic work in which form and content cannot be separated Hence a good acquaintance with the literary aspects of the book including its relations with other ancient Near Eastern texts is a precondition to the understanding of its theology The deep structure of the book is that of a catalogue which is a key to understanding its approach to the problem of theodicy The difficult language of Job is scrutinized and is proved to be an original and immanent characteristic of the book A synthesis of the literary linguistic and theological characteristics of Job leads to its paradoxical not absurd definition as a blemished perfection Southern Cultivator and Farming ,1868

Authors also shows how the metaphors used by theorists to explain this complex practice fed into works which were themselves imitations and how those metaphors have come to influence present day anxieties about imitation human beings and artificial forms of intelligence It explores relationships between imitation and authorial style its fraught connections with plagiarism and how emerging ideas of genius and intellectual property changed how imitation was practised In refreshing and jargon free prose Burrow explains not just what imitation was in the past but how it influences the present and what it could be in the future Imitating Authors includes detailed discussion of Plato Roman rhetorical theory Virgil Lucretius Petrarch Cervantes Ben Jonson Milton Pope Wordsworth Mary Shelley and Kazuo Ishiguro
