Acrostic poems - Natural Disasters!

Imagine primary school children using their science, geography and history knowledge to write an acrostic poem about natural disasters. They can use the template provided or a blank sheet of paper to create their own. The poem can be used as a starting point for a class discussion about natural disasters, or as a way to introduce the topic of natural disasters.

A variety of the 10 acrostic poems, based on natural disasters, are included at the end of the pack to give children a starting point for writing their own. Each poem is based on a different natural disaster, or a different type of natural disaster.

English: Acrostic poem

Castle, 2024-07-22 Being a follower of Jesus in the evangelical community in America is equated to a posture practice and pursuit of triumphalism Followers of Jesus have misunderstood maybe even lost the great value of public and private lament Lament is incongruent with a theology of continual and ongoing triumphalism Yet suffering loss and lament permeate Scripture and the human experience To lament is to cry out to God with our doubts and to bring complaints against God It is a posture and practice of worship and surrender that helps followers of Jesus wrestle engage process and understand loss creating a sacred space for the suffering voice to speak Lament is a practice absent in the church that is recognized and understood as a way of naming grief and suffering of standing and hoping in the midst of ruins In the context of San Francisco the practice and theology of lament in the lives of those who follow Jesus becomes a parody of cultured syllogisms and hyper vanquishing that forms a community frail to moments of liminality anxious in seasons of uncertainty and ill equipped to deal with the obscurities of everyday life Teaching from Bible Oddities James E.
