

Acrostic

Acrostic poetry is a form of writing that uses the first letter of each line to spell out a word, phrase, or name.

Example

[E] mblem of holy truth and worthiness
[L] ife's pathway through thy name is well begirt
[I] n whose sweet keeping are the keys of bliss [Z] ion's own messenger, a faithful one
[A] ngelic and unspotted dove, whose wings
[B] ear thee between the mercy seat and us [E] nshrined in beauty, love, and holiness
[T] hy saintly name around our hearts we twine
[H] eralding peace and joy, where'er its graces shine.

Charlemagne's Mustache P. Dutton, 2016-04-30 Charlemagne s Mustache presents the reader with seven engaging studies thick descriptions of cultural life and thought in the Carolingian world The author begins by asking questions Why did Charlemagne have a mustache and why did hair matter Why did the king own peacocks and other exotic animals Why was he writing in bed and could he write at all How did medieval kings become stars How were secrets kept and conveyed in the early Middle Ages And why did early medieval peoples believe in storm and hailmakers The answers he found are often surprising

Pump Court , 1886 Psalms Erhard S. Gerstenberger, 2001 The Encyclopedia of English Renaissance Literature, 3 Volume Set Garrett A. Sullivan, Jr., Alan Stewart, Rebecca Lemon, Nicholas McDowell, Jennifer Richards, 2012-01-30 Featuring entries composed by leading international scholars The Encyclopedia of English Renaissance Literature presents comprehensive coverage of all aspects of English literature produced from the early 16th to the mid 17th centuries Comprises over 400 entries ranging from 1000 to 5000 words written by leading international scholars Arranged in A Z format across three fully indexed and cross referenced volumes Provides coverage of canonical authors and their works as well as a variety of previously under considered areas including women writers broadside ballads commonplace books and other popular literary forms Biographical material on authors is presented in the context of cutting edge critical discussion of literary works Represents the most comprehensive resource available for those working in English Renaissance literary studies Also available online as part of the Wiley Blackwell Encyclopedia of Literature providing 24 7 access and powerful searching browsing and cross referencing capabilities Czech Lands, Part 1 Lucie Storchová, 2020-09-07 The Companion to Central and Eastern European Humanism The Czech Lands is the first reference work on humanists and their literary activities in this region to appear in English It provides biographical and bibliographical data about humanist literary life between c 1480 and 1630 in two volumes organised alphabetically by authors names This first volume includes three introductory chapters together with more than 130 biographical entries covering the letters A L and a complete overview of the most recent research on humanism in Central Europe The interdisciplinary research team behind this Companion paid particular attention to local approaches to the classical tradition to humanistic multilingualism and to Bohemian authors participation in European scholarly networks The Companion is a highly relevant resource for all academics who are interested in humanism and the history of early modern literature in Central Europe Alcuin Douglas Dales, 2012-11-29 Scholar ecclesiastic teacher and poet of the eighth century Alcuin was a person of deep Christian faith tenacious in his loyalty to orthodox Catholic theology He had a seminal influence upon his own generation and those that came after him Although he remained a Northumbrian Christian at heart the part of his life about which most is known was spent on the Continent He never lost contact with his homeland but his most significant and lasting work was evidently accomplished in Europe and his influence on the early medieval Western Church was an abiding one This book examines his life and career in England and on the continent it also considers his legacy as a churchman and a leading political figure This volume prefigures a forthcoming work on Alcuin's intellectual legacy Alcuin A Study of his Theology due for release April 2013 This rich study is intended for the general reader as well as for those studying teaching or researching this period of early medieval history and theology in schools and universities Psalms, Part 2, and Lamentations Erhard S. Gerstenberger, 2001 Psalms Part 2 and Lamentations is Volume XV of The Forms of the Old Testament Literature a series that aims to present a form critical analysis of every book and each unit in the Hebrew Bible Fundamentally exegetical the FOTL volumes examine the structure genre setting and intention of the biblical literature in question They also study the history behind the form critical discussion of the material attempt to bring consistency to the terminology for the genres and formulas of the biblical literature and expose the exegetical procedures so as to enable students and pastors to engage in their own analysis and interpretation of the Old Testament texts This volume completes Erhard Gerstenberger's widely praised discussion of the psalms literature begun in Volume XIV and includes as well an admirable study of the book of Lamentations Gerstenberger interprets the different kinds of songs and prayers that comprise the book of Psalms in light of their socio historical settings and provides a concise formal and structural analysis of each biblical text based on an illuminating comparison with other ancient Near Eastern prayers and hymns Seeing the biblical writings in relation to the social cultic religious and theological conceptions of Israel's neighboring peoples allows contemporary readers to better grasp the purpose and spiritual meaning of the psalms and Lamentations to the Jewish community that composed them Dark Age Bodies Lynda L. Coon, 2011-06-06 In Dark Age Bodies Lynda L. Coon reconstructs the gender ideology of monastic masculinity through an investigation of early medieval readings of the body Focusing on the Carolingian era Coon evaluates the ritual and liturgical performances of monastic bodies within the imaginative landscapes of same sex ascetic communities in northern Europe She demonstrates how the priestly body plays a significant role in shaping major aspects of Carolingian history such as the revival of classicism movements for clerical reform and church state relations In the political realm Carolingian churchmen consistently exploited monastic constructions of gender to assert the power of the monastery Stressing the superior qualities of priestly virility clerical elites forged a model of gender that sought to feminize lay male bodies through a variety of textual ritual and spatial means Focusing on three central themes the body architecture and ritual practice the book draws from a variety of visual and textual materials including poetry grammar manuals rhetorical treatises biblical exegesis monastic regulations hagiographies illuminated manuscripts building plans and cloister design Interdisciplinary in scope Dark Age Bodies brings together scholarship in architectural history and cultural anthropology with recent works in religion classics and gender to present a significant reconsideration of Carolingian culture

Publishers' circular and booksellers' record, 1842 British Books, 1842 The Publishers' Circular and General Record of British and Foreign Literature, 1842 Foundations of Learning Rolf Hendrik Bremmer, Cornelis Dekker, 2007 No period in the intellectual history of North Western Europe has been so formative as the early Middle Ages when missionaries transferred the learning accumulated for centuries in the Mediterranean basin to recently founded centres of religious scholarship in the ever expanding Christian world The aim of this scholarship focused first and foremost on a proper understanding of the Bible as God's Word and Nature as God's Creation During this period the foundations of medieval learning were laid in the monasteries and schools by men from distant shores who considered it their calling to entrust this precious knowledge to future generations of indigenous scholars In this process Syrians ended up in England Irishmen in Italy and Anglo Saxons in Frisia and Bavaria and thus helped build a common intellectual culture in Europe Even though the memories of these missionaries were fed with vast amounts of reproducible knowledge far beyond the capacity of modern man the most important means of storing and conveying knowledge was the written word stored in what was then modern technology the parchment codex The composition of these books reflect the extent and diversity of early medieval learning Sometimes they contain a single work but often enough they contain compilations of diverse material which at first sight shows little coherence to the modern reader and rightly so In a way such miscellanies are mini libraries Nevertheless they are storehouses of wholesome learning in their own right further study reveals a rationale in such collections that leads us to a monastic learning environment in some cases even to the classroom The present volume demonstrates how the study of texts and manuscripts combined opens up windows on the early medieval world of learning as represented by glossaries proto encyclopedias biblical companions hagiographical guides didactic verse or descriptions of the world in word and image The essays demonstrate that scholars have too often concentrated on the study of single texts but especially that the compilations of manuscripts and libraries reflect the kind of knowledge that was required of monks ministers and missionaries for the contemplation celebration and promulgation of the Christian message

Changing Perspectives on England and the Continent in the Early Middle Ages Anton Scharer, 2023-04-21 This volume brings together a set of articles by Professor Anton Scharer dealing with the themes of conversion court culture and royal representation in Anglo Saxon England and Carolingian Europe It includes two previously unpublished papers and another four specially translated into English for this publication Three papers focus on different aspects of conversion the spread of Christianity in Anglo Saxon England by means of social relations the role of language in this process and the monastic and social background of the insular mission to the Continent With conversion came the import of Latin written culture including charters and one study focuses on royal styles in Anglo Saxon charters A second paper on early mediaeval royal diplomas and what they at times reveal about very personal reactions and sentiments leads to the theme of court culture This is further explored in a batch of papers centred on Alfred the Great and covering the subjects of historiography of inauguration rites or ordines and of hitherto neglected personal contacts as a clue to the transmission of experiences ideas and texts Closely linked are studies on the role of Charlemagne's daughters at their father's court and on objects of princely and royal representation Throughout particular attention is given to the examination of mutual Anglo Saxon and Carolingian influences and to viewing the matters under discussion from an Anglo Saxon as well as a Continental perspective

The Literary Culture of Early Modern Scotland Sebastiaan Verweij, 2016-03-24 This study presents a history of the literary culture of early modern Scotland 1560-1625 based on extensive study of the literary manuscript It argues for the importance of three key places of production of such manuscripts the royal court burghs and towns and regional houses stately homes but also minor lairdly and non aristocratic households This attention to place facilitates a discussion of respectively courtly urban or civic and regional literary cultures Sebastiaan Verweij's methodology stems from bibliographical scholarship and the study of the History of the Book and more specifically from a school of manuscript research that has invigorated early modern English literary criticism over the last few decades The Literary Culture of Early Modern Scotland will also intersect with a programme of reassessment of early modern Scottish culture that is currently underway in Scottish studies Traditional narratives of literary history have often regarded the Reformation of 1560 as heralding a terminal cultural decline and the Union of Crowns of 1603 with the departure of king and court was thought to have brought the briefest of renaissances in the 1580s and 1590s to an early end This book purposefully straddles the Union in order to make possible the rediscovery of Scotland's refined and sophisticated renaissance culture

Manuscripts and Libraries in the Age of Charlemagne Bernhard Bischoff, 2007-04-30 Bernhard Bischoff 1906-1991 was one of the most renowned scholars of medieval palaeography of the twentieth century His most outstanding contribution to learning was in the field of Carolingian studies where his work is based on the catalogue of all extant ninth century manuscripts and fragments In this book Michael Gorman has selected and translated seven of his classic essays on aspects of eighth and ninth century culture They include an investigation of the manuscript evidence and the role of books in the transmission of culture from the sixth to the ninth century and studies of the court libraries of Charlemagne and Louis the Pious Bischoff also explores centres of learning outside the court in terms of the writing centres and the libraries associated with major monastic and cathedral schools respectively This rich collection provides a full coherent study of Carolingian culture from a number of different yet interdependent aspects providing insights for scholars and students alike Pages from the Past M.B. Parkes, edited by P.R. Robinson, 2018-02-06 In the present collection of articles by Malcolm Parkes two overarching concerns emerge the palaeography of manuscript books in relation to what Parkes has previously called the grammar of legibility and the importance of considering the circumstances in which medieval books were produced copied and read The individual studies discuss the handwriting of individual scribes and the evidence script can provide of the circumstances of a book's production the effect of punctuation and layout of text on the reader's interpretation of a work and the provision and production of books for communities of readers both clerical and academic From a discussion of the scribe of the Hereford Mappa Mundi to a comprehensive study of book provision in the medieval University of Oxford a wealth of information is conveyed in these articles now conveniently accessible in one volume about books and their histories by one of the most knowledgeable of manuscript scholars today
