intelligence documents Geoffrey Wawro's The Vietnam War offers a definitive account of a war of choice that was doomed from its inception. In devastating detail Wawro narrates campaigns where US troops struggled even to find the enemy in the South Vietnamese wilderness let alone kill sufficient numbers to turn the tide in their favor. Yet the war dragged on prolonged by presidents and military leaders who feared the political consequences of accepting defeat. In the end no number of young lives lost or bombs dropped could prevent America's ally the corrupt South Vietnamese regime from collapsing the moment US troops retreated. Broad, definitive and illuminating The Vietnam War offers an unsettling resonant story of the limitations of American power.

Vietnam's High Ground J. P. Harris, 2016-09-12 During its struggle for survival from 1954 to 1975 the region known as the Central Highlands was the strategically vital high ground for the South Vietnamese state. Successive South Vietnamese governments their American allies and their Communist enemies all realized early on the fundamental importance of this region. Paul Harris's new book based on research in American archives and the use of Vietnamese Communist literature on a very large scale examines the struggle for this region from the mid 1950s tracing its evolution from subversion through insurgency and counterinsurgency to the bigger battles of 1965 The rugged mountains high plateaus and dense jungles of the Central Highlands seemed as forbidding to most Vietnamese as it did to most Americans During 1954 to 1965 the great majority of its inhabitants were not ethnic Vietnamese Ngo Dinh Diem s regime initially supported an American counterinsurgency alliance with the Highlanders only to turn dramatically against it As the war progressed however the Central Highlands became increasingly important It was the area through which most branches of the Ho Chi Minh Trail passed With its rugged jungle clad terrain it also seemed to the North Vietnamese the best place to destroy the elite of South Vietnam s armed forces and to fight initial battles with the Americans For many North Vietnamese however the Central Highlands became a living hell of starvation and disease Even before the arrival of the American 1st Cavalry Division the Communists were generally unable to win the decisive victories they sought in this region Harris s study culminates with an account of the campaign in Pleiku province in October to November a campaign that led to dramatic clashes between the Americans and the North Vietnamese in the Ia Drang valley Harris s analysis overturns many of the accepted accounts about NVA US and ARVN performances
