Acoustics Of Long Spaces Theory And Design Guidance:

Acoustics of Long Spaces Jian Kang,2002 Acoustics is a major concern in many long spaces such as road or railway tunnels underground railway stations corridors concourses and urban streets The specific problems of such irregularly shaped spaces ranging from noise pollution in streets and tunnels to poor speech intelligibility of public address systems in railway stations are not dealt with by classic room acoustic theory This state of the art exposition of acoustics of long spaces presents the fundamentals of acoustic theory and calculation formulae for long spaces as well as giving guidelines for practical design

Building Acoustics Marc Asselineau,2015-03-18 Avoid Costly Mistakes for Specialists and Non Specialists AlikeBad acoustics in buildings is a nuisance that is not dealt with easily The problem applies just as much to open plan offices and restaurants and to production facilities and transportation stations as it does to performance halls not to mention homes It does not merely affect oral co

Design and Management of Sustainable Built Environments

Runming Yao,2013-03-12 Climate change is believed to be a great challenge to built environment professionals in design and management An integrated approach in delivering a sustainable built environment is desired by the built environment professional institutions The aim of this book is to provide an advanced understanding of the key subjects required for the design and management of modern built environments to meet carbon emission reduction targets In Design and Management of Sustainable Built Environments an international group of experts provide comprehensive and the most up to date knowledge covering sustainable urban and building design management and assessment The best practice case studies of the implementation of sustainable technology and management from the BRE Innovation Park are included Design and Management of Sustainable Built Environments will be of interest to urban and building designers environmental engineers and building performance assessors It will be particularly useful as a reference book for undergraduate and postgraduate students in the built environment field

Soundscape and the Built Environment Jian Kang,Brigitte

Schulte-Fortkamp,2018-10-09 Soundscape Basics and Practical Implications Soundscape research represents a paradigm shift as it involves human and social sciences and physical measurements to account for the diversity of soundscapes across countries and cultures Moreover it treats environmental sounds as a resource rather than a waste Soundscape and the Built Environment is the first book to systematically discuss soundscape in the built environment It begins with a presentation of theory and basic background answering questions such as what is soundscape how is it important and how does it affect people in terms of their health and perception on the acoustic environment The book then sets out tools for implementing a soundscape approach with measurement techniques mapping and good soundscape practices It also delivers a series of examples of the application of the soundscape approach in planning design and assessment Discusses soundscape and environmental noise Explores cultural variations and the way they influence soundscape Introduces binaural measurement technology and psychoacoustics Examines the physical psychological and physiological restorative mechanism of high quality acoustic environments Presents soundscape mapping based on human perception of sound sources Includes real world examples and case studies highlighting the key issues in soundscape intervention Soundscape and the Built Environment is written by a group of leading international figures and derives from a four year EU COST project on Soundscapes of European Cities and Landscapes It presents a consensus on the current state of the art and is not merely a collection of different views It is written for acoustic consultants urban planners designers and policy makers as well as for graduate students and researchers
