Acrosic Poems About Biodiversity:

Student Perspectives on Their School Trips to Zoos Susan Kay Davidson, 2006 Anthropocene Poetics David Farrier, 2019-02-19 How poetry can help us think about and live in the Anthropocene by reframing our intimate relationship with geological time The Anthropocene describes how humanity has radically intruded into deep time the vast timescales that shape the Earth system and all life forms that it supports The challenge it poses how to live in our present moment alongside deep pasts and futures brings into sharp focus the importance of grasping the nature of our intimate relationship with geological time In Anthropocene Poetics David Farrier shows how contemporary poetry by Elizabeth Bishop Seamus Heaney Evelyn Reilly and Christian B k among others provides us with frameworks for thinking about this uncanny sense of time Looking at a diverse array of lyric and avant garde poetry from three interrelated perspectives the Anthropocene and the material turn in environmental philosophy the Plantationocene and the role of global capitalism in environmental crisis and the emergence of multispecies ethics and extinction studies Farrier rethinks the environmental humanities from a literary critical perspective Anthropocene Poetics puts a concern with deep time at the center defining a new poetics for thinking through humanity's role as geological agents the devastation caused by resource extraction and the looming extinction crisis

Engaging with Environmental Education through the Language Arts Nicholas McGuinn, Amanda Naylor, 2024-11-04 This creative volume demonstrates the urgent importance of engaging students cognitively and affectively with the climate crisis and environmental education underpinning the vital role the language arts play in expanding this engagement for a better future Moving beyond the basic modalities of English chapters written by an internationally diverse group of contributors advocate for the integration of language arts with environmental education through broad representation of creative subdisciplines drama visual literacy philosophy poetry student voice and more These subdisciplines are explored to suggest the context in which environmental degradation forest ecologies carbon literacy and indigenous knowledges are taught further helping students to develop a comprehensive view of how they can effect change Ultimately the book makes a compelling argument by emphasising the significance of interdisciplinary learning in fostering a holistic understanding of environmental issues This volume will appeal to scholars researchers and postgraduate students in the field of environmental and sustainability education English and literacy language arts and teacher education more broadly Undergraduate students policymakers environmental educators and curriculum designers may also benefit from this volume

Teaching the Sustainable Development Goals to Young Citizens (10-16 years) Anne M. Dolan, 2024-05-31 With the current climate and economic crises education for sustainability has never been more critical This timely and essential book encourages readers to rethink our current values systems and to interrogate common assumptions about our world Written for all educators with an interest in sustainability chapters address several possible future scenarios for our planet allowing readers to make more educated choices about sustainability and to transfer this knowledge to students within the classroom Each chapter focuses on a specific Sustainable Development Goal Beginning with a brief historical and theoretical introduction to contextualise the goal chapters then showcase the practical activities case studies and exemplars that teachers can adopt when teaching Topics explored include but are not limited to Poverty Renewable energy Climate change Peace and justice Human rights Access to education This book is an essential classroom resource for any teacher or student teacher wishing to promote the Sustainable Development Goals and to teach for a better and brighter future
