

Pentecost

After the death of our son

Neither the sorrows of afternoon, waiting in the silent house,
Nor the night no sleep relieves, when memory
Repeats its prosecution.

Nor the morning's ache for dream's illusion, nor any prayers
Improvised to an unknowable god
Can extinguish the flame.

We are not as we were. Death has been our pentecost,
And our innocence consumed by these implacable
Tongues of fire.

Comfort me with stones. Quench my thirst with sand.
I offer you this scarred and guilty hand
Until others mix our ashes.

Dana Gioia

Origins of Hebrew Liturgical Rhetoric and Poetics Joseph Yahalom, 2024-07-22 This book follows the origins of the Kedushta a sequence of poems that leads up to the epitome of Jewish prayer the Kedusha or Sanctus It tracks back the earliest forms of prayer in late antiquity and by doing so defines the main characteristics of this genre both from the standpoint of Rhetoric and poetics This genre draws from Midrash and Mysticism adjacent literary forms that influence liturgical poetry How has such an enigmatic and complex liturgical genre survived the twists and turns of history and is recited to this day for over 1500 years The answer to this question pertains to both form and content When analyzing form we address rhyme alphabetical acrostics and different poetic forms Those all have a specific rhetorical function in determining the structure of the poem pushing it forward and musically aligning the different segments The form cannot be detached from narratology referencing early midrash and mysticism In addition the emotional approach of the private prayer can express one's existential pain as part of an oppressed community We can follow the composition of the prayer book for each community over the ages through the first millennium starting with Geniza fragments to the European prayer books Finally these poems use of sophisticated etymology correlation by sound leads to innovative Medieval interpretation of the Torah It seems that the combination of a public recitation simulating a divine choir the musicality of the text and emotional depth all contributed to this eternal poetic genre to penetrate cross cutting traditions of prayer throughout the ages

Hebraic Literature; Translations from the Talmud, Midrashim and Kabbala Maurice Henry Harris, 2019-07-27

Hebraic Literature; Translations from the Talmud, Midrashim and Kabbala Various Authors, 2020-09-28 Among the absurd notions as to what the Talmud was given credence in the Middle Ages one was that it was a man The mediaeval priest or peasant was perhaps wiser than he knew Almost might we say the Talmud was Man for it is a record of the doings the beliefs the usages the hopes the sufferings the patience the humor the mentality and the morality of the Jewish people for half a millennium What is the Talmud There is more than one answer Ostensibly it is the corpus juris of the Jews from about the first century before the Christian era to about the fourth after it But we shall see as we proceed that the Talmud was much more than this The very word Law in Hebrew Torah means more than its translation would imply The Jew interpreted his whole religion in terms of law It is his name in fact for the Bible's first five books the Pentateuch To explain what the Talmud is we must first explain the theory of its growth more remarkable perhaps than the work itself What was that theory The Divine Law was revealed to Moses not only through the Commands that were found written in the Bible but also through all the later rules and regulations of post exilic days These additional laws it was presumed were handed down orally from Moses to Joshua thence to the Prophets and later still transmitted to the Scribes and eventually to the Rabbis The reason why the Rabbis ascribed to Moses the laws that they later evolved was due to their intense reverence for Scripture and their modest sense of their own authority and qualification If the men of old were giants then we are pigmies said they They felt and believed that all duty for the guidance of man was found in the Bible either directly or inferentially Their motto was then Search the Scriptures and they did search them with a literalness and a painstaking thoroughness never since repeated Not a word not a letter escaped them Every redundancy of expression was freighted with meaning every repetition was made to give birth to new truth Some of the inferences were logical and natural some artificial and far fetched but all ingenious Sometimes the method was inductive and sometimes deductive That is occasionally a needed law was promulgated by the Jewish Sanhedrin and then its authority sought in the Scripture or the Scripture would be sought in the first instance to reveal new law
