

Mitosis is the process when cells divide.

Interphase is not in Mitosis but is a very important phase when cells divide.

The first phase of Mitosis is prophase.

In the second phase in Mitosis the spindle fibers form. This phase is called metaphase.

So then anaphase comes and the chromatic pairs split apart.

In telophase the cytoplasm splits apart and two new cells are formed.

So then the last stage is cytokinesis when the two new cells reform their nuclei and other parts of the cell.
