Surviving Lamentations Tod Linafelt, 2000-07 Most contemporary interpretations of the biblical book of Lamentations focus on the figure of the suffering man as a role model for submission in the face of God's punishment for sin Yet such a model offers small consolation to survivors of the Holocaust or other mass atrocities and also ignores chapters 1 and 2 of Lamentations in which the personification of Zion laments her sufferings and demands a response on behalf of her dying children In Surviving Lamentations Tod Linafelt offers an alternative reading of Lamentations in light of the literature of survival works written by survivors of catastrophe as well as literary and philosophical reflections on the survival of literature He refocuses attention on the figure of Zion as a manifestation of a basic need to give voice to suffering and traces the afterlife of Lamentations in Jewish literature in which text after text attempts to provide the response to Zion's lament that is lacking in Lamentations itself Seen through Linafelt's eyes Lamentations emerges as uncannily relevant to contemporary discourse on survival their deaths but a position that authors adopt themselves Minor poets turn from long ambitious works to shorter lyrics on a limited number of subjects They respond to the Romantic ideology and its emphasis on individual vision achievement and reputation but choose instead the minor This book explores the work of Charles Lamb as a theorist of the minor as well as Thomas Hood Felicia Hemans Winthrop Mackworth Praed and Mary Mitford as exemplars of this style It links their work to literary Romanticism and yet responds to it in a strategically self limited way by posing as ancillary The Fulfilment of Doom?
