

A Visit To The Asylum

*Once from a big, big building,
When I was small, small,
The queer folk in the windows
Would smile at me and call.*

*And in the hard wee gardens
Such pleasant men would hoe:
"Sir, may we touch the little girl's hair!"—
It was so red, you know.*

*They cut me coloured asters
With shears so sharp and neat,
They brought me grapes and plums and pears
And pretty cakes to eat.*

*And out of all the windows,
No matter where we went,
The merriest eyes would follow me
And make me compliment.*

*There were a thousand windows,
All latticed up and down.
And up to all the windows,
When we went back to town,*

*The queer folk put their faces,
As gentle as could be;
"Come again, little girl!" they called, and I
Called back, "You come see me!"*

Latinxs, the Bible, and Migration Efraín Agosto, Jacqueline M. Hidalgo, 2018-10-27 This book examines the conjunction between migration and biblical texts with a focus on Latinx histories and experiences Essays reflect upon Latinxs the Bible and migration in different ways some consider how the Bible is used in the midst of or in response to Latinx experiences and histories of migration some use Latinx histories and experiences of migration to examine Biblical texts in both First and Second Testaments some consider the Bible as a phenomenological set of texts that respond to and or compel migration Cultural literary and postcolonial theories inform the analysis as does the exploration of how migrant groups themselves scripturalize their biblical and cultural texts You Shall Love the Stranger as Yourself Fleur S Houston, 2015-03-24 You Shall Love the Stranger as Yourself addresses the complex political legal and humanitarian challenges raised by asylum seekers and refugees from a Biblical perspective The book explores the themes of humanity and justice through exegesis of relevant passages in the Old and New Testaments skillfully woven into accounts of contemporary refugee situations Applying Biblical analysis to one of the most pressing humanitarian concerns of modern times Houston creates a timely work that will be of interest to students and scholars of theology religion and human rights Global Migration and Christian Faith M. Daniel Carroll R., Vincent E. Bacote, 2021-12-29 Human history is the history of migration Never before however have the numbers of people on the move been so large nor the movement as global as it is today How should Christians respond biblically theologically and missiologically to the myriad of daunting challenges triggered by this new worldwide reality This volume brings together significant scholars from a variety of fields to offer fresh insights into how to engage migration What makes this book especially unique is that the authors come from across Christian traditions and from different backgrounds and experiences each of whom makes an important contribution to current debates How has the Christian church responded to migration in the past How might the Bible orient our thinking What new insights about God and faith surface with migration and what new demands are placed now upon God's people in a world in so much need Global Migration and Christian Faith points in the right direction to grapple with those questions and move forward in constructive ways All the Poems of John Robert Colombo John Robert Colombo, 2005 Poetry at Leisure Kwok-Yuk Yau, 2011-07-14 Such striking words of 1998 Poetry Guild's Official Call For Entries attracted my attention After days of consideration I translated my Chinese poem Diplomacy into English and submitted I was happy to find that my poem was accepted and collected into Shelter from the Storm I didn't pay for an entry fee but of course I paid for the book I was quite encouraged Hence I continued to submit my poetry to Poetry Guild the International Library of Poetry and the Noble House Publishers Now I have thirty two poems collected into anthologies of these publishers Many of such poems are also found in The Sound of Poetry In these years I do not translate or rewrite my Chinese poems into English alone I also read English poetry and try to write poetry with the English language Uncle Horn is one of such poems And Social Justice for All Lisa Van Engen, 2019-02-26 Equips parents to inspire kids to take on social injustice at any age With the constant barrage of difficult stories through news and social media today's kids are increasingly aware of the real problems real people confront every day And they're quicker than ever to come to parents and other trusted adults to ask how they can help or why they're not already doing so And Social Justice for All equips Christian families to tackle social justice issues together It inspires them to bring light and love to a dark and scary world Educator and mom Lisa Van Engen creates innovative resources to engage kids in understanding and responding to fourteen justice issues such as clean water creation care immigration and refugees hunger race and poverty

After placing each issue in kid friendly context she offers interactive features High interest conversation starters for each age group to challenge thinking and assumptions A family devotional to anchor each social justice issue in God s Word Engaging age tiered activities for reading playing observing creating connecting and experimenting in God s world Tips and internet links to extend awareness and invest resources in social justice Throughout each chapter children speak their own thoughts about injustice and what they think God is calling them to do By looking at both the roots of injustice and what Christians can do right now to help And Social Justice for All empowers both adults and children to encounter a broken world with insight and empathy Simple yet powerful it lights the path for families to make a real God directed difference together
