

ACT vs SAT

Essay Differences

Time Limit Differences:

The ACT Essay section allows test takers 40 minutes for completion

The SAT Essay needs to be wrapped up in 50 minutes

"There's an immediate difference of 10 minutes that you need to notice"

Prompt Differences:

On the ACT Essay, you read the provided prompt and write an essay in which you develop your own perspective on the issue. The essay should analyze the relationship between your perspective and one or more other provided perspectives.

On The SAT Essay, you are provided a prompt that is a long reading passage from an author that presents an argument. You are asked to explain how the author builds that argument and provide evidence from the text.

Complexity:

The SAT essay appears to demand more, since you are acting as a detective on another's person's work. The constant evidence citation that you need to provide can be taxing.

The ACT essay has fewer instructions to follow. The major difference though is that you are required to formulate and defend your own opinion, in addition to recognizing the other provided perspectives.
