Afrikaans Paper 2 Scope 2014:

Assessing Academic Literacy in a Multilingual Society Albert Weideman, John Read, Theo du Plessis, 2020-11-02 South African universities face major challenges in meeting the needs of their students in the area of academic language and literacy. The dominant medium of instruction in the universities is English and to a much lesser extent Afrikaans but only a minority of the national population are native speakers of these languages. Nine other languages can be media of instruction in schools which makes the transition to tertiary education difficult enough in itself for students from these schools. The focus of this book is on procedures for assessing the academic language and literacy levels and needs of students not in order to exclude students from higher education but rather to identify those who would benefit from further development of their ability in order to undertake their degree studies successfully. The volume also aims to bring the innovative solutions designed by South African educators to a wider international audience.

It features cutting edge studies from leading experts in the area focused on both professional and student translations and covers the latest theoretical developments such as the constrained communication framework with a strong focus on methodology particularly mixed method approaches multivariate research designs and translation error annotation. It also offers a forward looking perspective by presenting some of the challenges CBTS currently faces and possible pathways for future research. Thanks to its combined theoretical methodological and applied perspective and innovative approaches Extending the Scope of Corpus Based Translation Studies will appeal to both seasoned specialists and newcomers to the field.

Cartography and Explanatory Adequacy Ángel J. Gallego, Dennis Ott, 2024-09-11 This book contributes to the ongoing empirical conceptual and meta theoretical debates regarding the merits and drawbacks of the cartographic program in linguistic theory. Although cartography has its roots in the study of the left periphery its empirical scope has expanded significantly over the years and now covers a wide range of domains such as argument structure modification and constituent order. The chapters in this volume offer a critical examination of the cartographic assumption that there is a rich array of functional projections whose hierarchical order is fixed and determined by Universal Grammar. They discuss the nature of these cartographic hierarchies and their relation to the central theoretical goal of explanatory adequacy: are functional hierarchies an irreducible property of Universal Grammar hence constituting part of the residue beyond the scope of principled explanation or are they emergent deriving from independent principles that do not require a further enrichment of Universal Grammar.

Ubuntu and the Reconstitution of Community James Ogude, 2019-05-16 Ubuntu is premised on the ethical belief that an individual's humanity is fostered in a network of human relationships I am because you are we are because you are The essays in this lively volume elevate the debate about ubuntu beyond the buzzword it has become especially within South African religious and political contexts The seasoned scholars and younger voices gathered here grapple with a range of challenges that ubuntu puts forward They break down its history and analyze its intellectual surroundings in African philosophical traditions European modernism religious contexts and human rights discourses The discussion embraces questions about what it means to be human and to be a part of a community giving attention to moments of loss and fragmentation in postcolonial modernity to come to a more meaningful definition of belonging in a globalizing world Taken together these essays offer a rich understanding of ubuntu in all of its complexity and reflect on a value system rooted in the everyday practices of ordinary people in their daily encounters with churches schools and other social institutions

On Record Schalk van der Merwe, 2017-07-12 Popular Afrikaans music artists have done well in post apartheid South Africa and enjoy the enthusiastic support of loyal fans This support is fuelled by a complex set of emotions linked to being Afrikaans in a culturally pluralistic society In On Record van der Merwe investigates the interplay between popular music and the unfolding of Afrikaans culture politics from the start of the twentieth century to the present It includes a search for the earliest recorded Afrikaans songs and documents subsequent phases of music development that reflect the agency of ordinary individuals artists and listeners against a background of fundamental societal and political change It regards both the music mainstream and the alternative and reveals among other things historical cases of compliance and resistance regarding the master narrative of Afrikaner nationalist ideology the attempts by cultural entrepreneurs to establish authority over popular Afrikaans culture class tension lasting racial exclusivity protest and censorship and the post apartheid invocation of Afrikaner nostalgia and white victimhood Ultimately On Record provides an uninterrupted account and a critique of the entire history of recorded popular Afrikaans music up to the present

Literary Prizes and Cultural Transfer Petra Broomans, Mathijs Sanders, Jeanette den Toonder, Elise Bijl, 2022-02-05 Literary Prizes and Cultural Transfer addresses the multilevel nature of literary and translation prizes with the aim of expanding our knowledge about them as an international and transnational phenomenon The contributions to this book analyse the social institutional and ideological functions of such prizes This volume not only looks at famous prizes and celebrities but also lesser known prizes in more peripheral language areas and regions with a special focus on cultural transmitters and their networks which play a decisive role in the award industry Cultural transfer and translations are at the heart of this book and this approach adds a new dimension to the study of literary and translation prizes The contributions reveal the diverse ways in which a cultural transfer approach enhances the study of literary prizes presenting the state of the art regarding recent developments in the field Articles with a broader scope discuss definitions concepts and methods while other contributions deal with specific case studies A variety of theoretical and methodological approaches are explored applying field theory network analysis comparative literature and cultural transfer studies By providing multiple perspectives

Verb Doubling and Dummy Verb Johannes Hein, 2020-06-22 This monograph provides the first cross linguistic study of repair strategies in verbal fronting verb doubling and do support addressing both typological properties and theoretical aspects First it brings together data hitherto scattered across the empirical and theoretical literature and adds newly collected data from two African languages For each of the 47 languages the properties of verbal fronting are documented in detail Based on this sample the empirical part establishes two novel typological generalizations regarding the interaction between the size of the fronted category and the type of repair strategy used The first of these identifies a systematic typological gap No language that allows both verb and verb phrase fronting has do support with the former and verb doubling with the latter In the theoretical part it is shown that previous theories of verb doubling do support are unable to account for both generalizations A new approach within the Copy Theory of the Minimalist Framework is developed that rests on the interaction of head movement copy deletion and the properties of different movement types The book thus provides the first comprehensive empirical and theoretical overview of repair patterns in verbal fronting

School Lara-Stephanie Krause-Alzaidi,2021-12-20 Using data from a long term ethnographic study of English language classrooms in a South African township this book highlights linguistic expertise in a setting where it is not usually expected or sought Rather than being peripheral and unskilled South African township teachers and learners emerge as skilled re languagers central to the workings of South African education and to our understanding of how language classrooms work This book foregrounds the heterogeneity flexibility and creativity of day to day language practices that African urban spaces are known for and conceptualises language teaching not as a progression from one fixed language to another but as a circular sorting process between linguistic heterogeneity languaging and homogeneity a standard language A
