Climate-Environment Interactions under Global Warming, volume II Hainan Gong, Haipeng Yu, Zhiyuan Hu, Qinjian Jin, 2025-03-07. During recent decades the global climate and environment have experienced unprecedented changes. Much evidence indicates that the global surface temperature is increasing rapidly especially in the Arctic and extreme climate and environmental events are frequently occurring. Climate and environmental changes not only have a great impact on society and the economy but also seriously exert far reaching impacts on both human lives and health. Therefore revealing the mechanisms behind the climate and environmental changes is critical to advancing our understanding and predicting of the global climate and environmental changes and their impacts. Climate change can cause environmental change and environmental change may in turn affect climate change. For example the faster Arctic warming can change the mid latitude large scale atmospheric circulation and further modulate the regional air quality through transport and diffusion Conversely the air pollution associated with industrial activities may also affect the regional and global climate through the complicated aerosol climate interaction The limited understanding of these feedback and interactions adds uncertainty to predicting the future evolution of the climate and environment Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, Education, and Related Agencies Appropriations for 2017: National Institutes of Health; Department of Education; Centers for Disease Control and Prevention United States.
