

Directional References

Front of boat is bow; rear is stern. Starboard side is right side; port side is left side. In this maintenance manual, all directional references are given as they appear when viewing boat from stern looking toward bow.

Engine Rotation

Engine rotation is determined by observing flywheel rotation from the rear (stern end) of the engine looking forward (toward water pump end). Propeller rotation is not necessarily the same as engine rotation. When ordering replacement engine, shaft blocks or parts for engine, be certain to check engine rotation. Do not rely on propeller rotation in determining engine rotation.

Standard Left-Hand Rotation

Engine Serial Number Locations

Engine Identification

Refer to SECTION 3A for engine block identification.

Propeller Information

Refer to the "Propeller" section in appropriate Mer-Cruiser Stern Drive Service Manual, or order publication 90-86144, "What You Should Know About Quick-silver Propellers."

Changing diameter, pitch or coupling of a propeller will affect engine RPM and boat performance. The blade configuration also will affect performance. Two like propellers, same pitch and diameter, from two different manufacturers also will perform differently.

It is the responsibility of the boat manufacturer and/or selling dealer to equip the boat with the correct propeller to allow the engine to operate within its specified RPM range at wide-open-throttle (W.O.T.).

Because of the many variables of boat design and operation, only testing will determine the best propeller for the particular application.

To test for correct propeller, operate boat (with an average load onboard) at W.O.T. and check RPM with an accurate tachometer. Engine RPM should be near top of the specified range so that, under heavy load, engine speed will not fall below specifications.
