Song, 2023-07-20 This book intends to report new concept of onco spheres in cancer ecosystem Onco spheres are defined as where cancer cells living organisms dynamically interact with nontumor cellular other living organisms and noncellular components non living environmental factors in the host internal environment habitat to construct a self sustainable cancer ecosystem which can be scoped at three different levels primary regional distal and systemic onco spheres Cancer cells should be conceived as living organisms interacting with cellular or noncellular components in the host internal environment not only with the local tumor microenvironment TME but also constantly communicating with a distant organ niche as well interacting with the host s nervous endocrine and immune systems to construct a self sustainable biosphere as we termed the tumor ecosystem By looking at the interaction of cancer and host as a unique ecosystem we will use ecology principles to further delineate the features of the dynamics of the tumor ecosystem As the pioneer in proposing this concept we feel that this full scale overview of the tumor ecosystem is able to inform the readers about this concept and to pave the way for designing novel therapeutic strategies on actionable targets within tumor ecosystem The book is likely to be of interest to
