Home-Based Care Ministry Judy Mathers, 2019-08-06 We live in a broken world with broken people Often it is easy to ignore the needs of the people around us But what would God want us to do In His ministry here on earth Jesus reached out to the most hurt most abused and most reviled members of His community He healed not only their bodies but their spirits Should we do any less The Seventh day Adventist Church has a unique opportunity to serve the hurting in their community through a Home Based Care ministry With our mission to love serve and teach and with the numerous church resources already available we can do what many others cannot be the safe haven of health and healing that God intends His church to be While this book focuses on ministry to individuals and their families dealing with HIV and AIDS the principles found here can be applied to anyone with a terminal illness who finds himself herself on the other side of accepted society It shows us that instead of being critical we should accept where people and their choices have led them doing our best to minister with the love and care of Jesus

The a to Z of the Seventh-Day Adventists Gary Land,2009-07 Covering the Millerite movement of the 1830s and 1840s sabbatarian Adventism prior to organization of the denomination and the Seventh day Adventist Church since its organization in 1861 63 this volume provides a comprehensive history of the denomination

Youth Ministry in Papua New Guinea Danijela Schubert,2013-07-12 Papua New Guinea is experiencing changes that grow in significance and accelerate in pace Although the majority of its population are still subsistence farmers the postmodern world is fast making an impact That means that at the same time they are strongly influenced by firmly ingrained tradition where animism is binding and a pervasive element as well as Western media with its consumerism and worldview The most impacted are youth who are caught between the traditional and postmodern culture In a country that is Christian by constitution pastors are looked upon with high esteem They need to find a way to bridge the gap to make sense of the world youth are living in and find a meaningful way forward Although this book is aimed at pastors and youth workers in PNG other sectors can benefit from the research politicians educators health workers clergy especially if they are coming from a different culture be that from PNG or another country explores the interrelation of literacy and religion as practiced by Western Christians in first historical contexts and second in one contemporary church setting Using both a case study and a Foucauldian theoretical framework the book provides a sustained analysis of the reciprocal discursive construction of literacy religiosity and identity in one Seventh day Adventist Church community of Northern Australia Critical linguistic and discourse analytic theory is used to disclose processes of theological church familial home and educational school normalisation of community members into regulated ways of hearing and speaking reading and writing being and believing Detailed analyses of spoken and written texts taken from institutional and local community settings show how textual religion is an exemplary technology of the self a politics constituted by canonical texts interpretive norms textual practices ritualised events and sociopolitical protocols that ultimately are turned in upon the self The purpose of these analyses is to show how across denominational difference in belief tradition and practice particular versions of self and society are constructed through economies of truth from text that constrain what can and cannot be articulated and enacted by believers
