Identification and Citizenship in Africa Séverine Awenengo Dalberto, Richard Banégas, 2021-05-09 In the context of a global biometric turn this book investigates processes of legal identification in Africa from below asking what this means for the relationship between citizens and the state Almost half of the population of the African continent is thought to lack a legal identity and many states see biometric technology as a reliable and efficient solution to the problem However this book shows that biometrics far from securing identities and avoiding fraud or political distrust can even participate in reinforcing exclusion and polarizing debates on citizenship and national belonging It highlights the social and political embedding of legal identities and the resilience of the documentary state Drawing on empirical research conducted across 14 countries the book documents the processes practices and meanings of legal identification in Africa from the 1950s right up to the biometric boom Beyond the classic opposition between surveillance and recognition it demonstrates how analysing the social uses of IDs and tools of identification can give a fresh account of the state at work the practices of citizenship and the role of bureaucracy in the writing of the self in African societies This book will be of an important reference for students and scholars of African studies politics human security and anthropology and the sociology of the state

La pauvreté dans une Afrique en essor Kathleen Beegle, Luc Christiaensen, Andrew Dabalen, Isis Gaddis, 2017-01-31 L'idée que l'on se fait de l'Afrique a radicalement changé. Encore considéré comme le continent des guerres, des famines et de la pauvreté chronique, la fin des années 90 le continent africain est maintenant vu sous l'angle de l'Afrique qui monte et du XXI^e siècle africain. Deux décennies de croissance économique sans précédent devaient en principe améliorer sensiblement le bien-être des populations africaines. Il est toutefois difficile de dire si c'est effectivement le cas en raison de la médiocre qualité des données de la nature du processus de croissance s'agissant notamment du rôle des ressources naturelles, des conflits qui se vivent dans une partie la région et de la forte expansion démographique. Poverty in a Rising Africa décrit les problèmes de données et analyse systématiquement les informations disponibles sur la pauvreté et les inégalités dans une perspective tant monétaire que non monétaire. Le premier chapitre value la disponibilité et la qualité des données nécessaires pour cerner la pauvreté monétaire, examine les mécanismes de gouvernance et les processus politiques qui sous-tendent la production statistique et propose quelques méthodes pour combler le déficit de données. Le chapitre 2 value la robustesse des estimations sur la pauvreté en Afrique et brosse grands traits le profil de ce flou. Selon les auteurs, la réduction de la pauvreté en Afrique est peut-être légèrement supérieure à ce que les estimations traditionnelles portent croire. Pour autant, même les estimations les plus optimistes indiquent que davantage de personnes vivaient dans la pauvreté en 2012 qu'en 1990. Le troisième chapitre considère la pauvreté dans une perspective large en prenant en compte les dimensions non monétaires du bien-être telles que l'éducation, la santé et la liberté en utilisant la méthode d'Amartya Sen (1985) axée sur les notions de capacités et de fonctionings. Des progrès ont certes été accomplis dans plusieurs de ces domaines mais les niveaux de résultats restent obstinément bas. Enfin, le chapitre 4 examine les données relatives aux inégalités en Afrique en analysant non seulement les types d'inégalités monétaires mais aussi d'autres aspects tels que l'inégalité des chances la mobilité intergénérationnelle dans le travail et l'éducation et l'extrême richesse

Security, crime and segregation in West African cities since the 19th century Laurent Fourchard, Isaac Olawale Albert, Institut français de recherche en Afrique, 2003-01-01 Les questions de sécurité et de criminalité sont devenues de nouveaux objets d'études en Afrique essentiellement en raison de la multiplication récente des formes de criminalité urbaine ou organisée et de la privatisation avancée de grandes portions d'espaces urbains phénomènes que l'on pouvait croire limités aux Amériques L'endémisme de la crise économique l'accroissement de la pauvreté la criminalisation de l'état et la faillite des polices tropicales ont considérablement accru les sentiments d'insécurité et accéléré le développement d'agences privées qui prennent le relais d'états incapables d'assumer le contrôle du corps social Les auteurs de ce livre interrogent l'efficacité des fonctions régaliennes de l'état sécurité police justice et leur éventuelle évolution des organismes privés associations groupes d'autodéfense milices ils rendent compte d'un groupe et de sa catégorisation criminels délinquants et proposent un nouveau regard sur une certaine gestion urbaine de l'insécurité sécurisation Alors que de nombreuses études se sont naturellement focalisées sur les vingt dernières années la quasi absence d'études historiques sur la sécurité et la criminalité laisserait supposer que ces phénomènes sont nouveaux en Afrique L'une des priorités de ce livre est de reconsidérer ces questions en proposant une approche pluridisciplinaire histoire science politique géographie sociologie littérature De nombreuses études empiriques témoignent de la variété des trajectoires criminelles des rôles successifs des polices coloniales et postcoloniales de la multiplicité des agences de sécurité privée et des formes ségrégatives d'organisation de l'espace urbain en Afrique de l'Ouest En raison de la taille et du nombre de ses villes et de l'épaisseur historique de la criminalité urbaine le Nigeria tient une place singulière dans ce livre Premier pays de la région à entrer dans l'ère du crime organisé le Nigeria constitue aujourd'hui une base essentielle des réseaux criminels transnationaux à l'échelle mondiale

Poetry of the innermost Z J GALOS,2024-05-08 Poems in Book I of II were written during my trip from South Africa to Europe on the sunny veranda of Mom s house that represented a stark contrast with its splendid natural illumination to my dark thoughts about the terminal illness of a beloved friend and talented poetess I continued my journey to places of family and friends in various federal states of Austria and my heart felt heavy of flying on to Athens Greece where I wished to see my friend and teacher for the last time I felt a deep compassion for the first time in my life with last embraces and caresses a most deep emotional experience that made me immediately take my pen and put my innermost feelings to paper Back in Jo burg the message of her death kept me mourning for her for a long time I had lost all sense for time and filled the Chinese red and black notebook she had given me as a present The ink has dried and I wish to share my outburst of pain with all people who can relate to the pain of losing a beloved person

Reflections on Identity in Four African Cities S. B. Bekker,Anne Leildé,2006 Identity has become the watchword of our times In sub Saharan Africa this certainly appears to be true and for particular reasons Africa is urbanising rapidly cross border migration streams are swelling and globalising influences sweep across the continent Africa is also facing up to the challenge of nurturing emergent democracies in which citizens often feel torn between older traditional and newer national loyalties Accordingly collective identities are deeply coloured by recent urban as well as international experience and are squarely located within identity politics where reconciliation is required between state nation building strategies and sub national affiliations They are also fundamentally shaped by the growing inequality and the poverty found on this continent These themes are explored by an international set of scholars in two South African and two Francophone cities The relative importance to urban residents of race class and ethnicity but also of work space and language are compared in these cities This volume also includes a chapter investigating the emergence of a continental African identity A recent report of the Office of the South African President claims that a strong national identity is emerging among its citizens and that race and ethnicity are waning whilst a class identity is in the ascendance The evidence and analyses within this volume serve to gauge the extent to which such claims ring true in what everyone knows is a much more complex and shifting terrain of shared meanings than can ever be captured by such generalisations
