Doctors' Orders Cal Orey, 2002 A guide to optimal health reveals the treatment regimens doctors use to keep their own families healthy providing advice for a variety of ailments and conditions including heart disease cancer arthritis and sexual dysfunction Doctors' Orders Tania M. Jenkins, 2020-07-21 The United States does not have enough doctors Every year since the 1950s internationally trained and osteopathic medical graduates have been needed to fill residency positions because there are too few American trained MDs However these international and osteopathic graduates have to significantly outperform their American MD counterparts to have the same likelihood of getting a residency position And when they do they often end up in lower prestige training programs while American trained MDs tend to occupy elite training positions Some programs are even fully segregated accepting exclusively U S medical graduates or non U S medical graduates depending on the program s prestige How do international and osteopathic medical graduates end up so marginalized and what allows U S trained MDs to remain elite Doctors Orders offers a groundbreaking examination of the construction and consequences of status distinctions between physicians before during and after residency training Tania M Jenkins spent years observing and interviewing American international and osteopathic medical residents in two hospitals to reveal the unspoken mechanisms that are taken for granted and that lead to hierarchies among supposed equals She finds that the United States does not need formal policies to prioritize American trained MDs By relying on a system of informal beliefs and practices that equate status with merit and eclipse structural disadvantages the profession convinces international and osteopathic graduates to participate in a system that subordinates them to American trained MDs Offering a rare ethnographic look at the inner workings of an elite profession Doctors Orders sheds new light on the formation of informal status hierarchies and their significance for both doctors and patients

Behind the Curtain: Living as a Quadriplegic Nancy H. Blose, 2015-07-20 Raised to believe outward appearance was the defining characteristic of a person Nancy Blose suffered both severe physical and emotional trauma after an automobile accident rendered her a quadriplegic She learned to redefine herself and continue her life from a wheelchair learning how to cover continuing medical costs Nurses are Nuts A. E. L.,2019-12-26 Nurses have very busy jobs in the hospital and the other hospital disciplines do not help nurses with their jobs yet nurses always help them There are lots of things that the other hospital disciplines can sometimes do to help nurses with their jobs but they are never done Nurses on the other hand can be found helping out many other disciplines with their jobs Most of the things that nurses do for the other disciplines do not have to be done and should not be done but when the other disciplines ask nurses for help with their tasks the nurse will usually always help them out There are lots of times when the nurse will do work for other hospital disciplines if those disciplines do not get there to do the job in question in a timely fashion There are lots of jobs that other disciplines are supposed to do and if they don't get done at all or in a timely fashion the blame will fall on the nurse especially if they involve the patient's safety and the patient takes a turn for the worse if the job does not get done Sometimes the nurse will volunteer to do another discipline's job when she does not have to do it There are also times when the other discipline will ask the nurse to do something that he should do himself and will tell that nurse that he is too busy to do his own job The nurse regardless of how busy she is cannot get the other disciplines to help her with her job It is my hope that nurses will one day realize that a large majority of what they do for other disciplines does not have to be done and should not be done by nurses
